PICKPOCKET SENTENCED

Noted Pickpocket Arrested Here, Sentenced Today—Officer Complimented

Michael J. Casey, a noted pickpocket with several aliases and a long police record, who was arrested in this city last July, charged with the larceny of $610 from Severin Belanger, a resident of Lowell, was this morning sentenced to not less than 2 1/2 years and not more than 3 1/2 years in the state prison, by Justice Cox at the criminal session of the superior court, after being found guilty by a jury.

Casey was arrested on a train leaving Lowell for Montreal by Inspector Walsh after Belanger had complained of losing his roll. Before leaving the train in the custody of the officer, Casey dropped the money, which was picked up by a woman and turned over to Conductor Leslie B. McKay.

After sentence was imposed this morning District Attorney Tufts complimented Inspector Walsh for his fine police work in arresting Casey, whom he referred to as a noted pickpocket.

RATIONING OF HARD COAL

State Commission Limits Supply for Domestic Use to Relieve Shortage

Until Further Notice Householders Will be Allowed Only Three Tons of Coal

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Rationing of hard coal for domestic use was ordered today as a means of relieving the scarcity which exists in all parts of the state.

Eugene C. Hullman, chairman of the state commission on the necessities of life, after a conference with a committee of five coal dealers, appointed by Governor Coolidge, announced that until further notice householders would be allowed only three tons of coal.

LOCAL FUEL SITUATION

Dealers Say Lowell's Coal Supply is About 25 Per Cent Short

The nipping air of the last few mornings has caused many citizens to cast anxious glances at their coal bins and wonder whether they are to have enough fuel to keep their homes snug and cozy during the winter.

The situation in the state as a whole is known to be critical. In a number of cities and towns dealers are down to the point of scraping their bins in an effort to make some attempt to fill orders that are piling in, on them, and in one or two places it is known that not a pound of coal is now in dealer's hands.

SENATE PROBES RESUME SESSION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—A right-of-way before the senate committee in investigating campaign expenditures was held today for William Barnes of Albany, N. Y.

The committee's inquiry begun yesterday into the publication of a book on "Republicanism in 1920" by Mr. Barnes, through his newspaper, the Albany Journal, was temporarily stopped by Mr. Barnes' denial that the book had anything to do with the current political campaign, and his request for a committee ruling as to whether he should be examined further.

Today the committee was prepared with records of charges made before it concerning the matter and hoped to be ready to decide the point.

Two flat denials connected with charges that had figured in previous testimony were produced at yesterday's session. One was entered by William Barnes Jr., who asserted that the book "Republicanism in 1920," published by his newspaper, the Albany (N. Y.) Journal, had no connection with the republican national committee and was a private commercial venture.

The other denial was made by George T. Carroll of Elizabeth, N. J., president of the National Retail Liquor Dealers of America and of the Federated Liquor Industries of New Jersey, who said that such support as these organizations had given the candidacy of Gov. Cox for the presidency was in no way connected with democratic party financing.

Mr. Carroll acknowledged having authorized the sending of letters urging liquor dealers in the National association to aid the Cox and Roosevelt ticket. No official action had been taken by either organization of which he was head to endorse a presidential ticket, he said, although it had been decided to urge election of a "liberal congress." A total of "less than $2500" had been received in response to the circular letters, Carroll said.

ATTEMPT TO FIX BASEBALL GAME

Herzog of Chicago Cubs Accused of Offering Bribe to Benton to "Throw" Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Direct evidence of an attempt to fix a game between the Chicago National League team and the New York Giants was expected today when Jacob (Rube) Benton, pitcher of the Giants, appeared before the Cook county grand jury investigating reports of major league baseball gambling. He is said to have been offered $500 by a former Cub player to "throw" a game.

Charles "Bluck" Herzog, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs admitted in a statement today that he had been accused of offering an $800 bribe to Benton to "throw" a game and declared that President Heydler of the National league and President William Veck of the Cubs knew that he was accused because he knew it himself. He said that they did not want to give him a hearing, fearing publicity.

Herzog denied that he had ever been involved in an attempt to "throw" a game, and produced affidavits by Arthur E. Wilson and Norman Bockel of the Boston Braves, declaring that they heard Benton say he had won $3500 by betting on Cincinnati in the world series contests last year with the White Sox.

The affidavits as announced said that Benton gave Hal Chase as author of the "tip" to bet on the Reds.

In a statement issued after yesterday's session of the grand jury Herzog Repley, prosecutor in charge of the investigation, declared that evidence had been presented to the effect that last year's world series were "not on the square." He said that seven Chicago players were involved but that no Cincinnati players were implicated.

Besides Benton, others who were expected to testify before the grand jury today were Charles A. Stoneham, president and John McGraw, vice president and manager of the New York Giants; John Seys, secretary of the Cubs; Ray Schalk, White Sox catcher. Barry McCormick, umpire; Samuel W. Pass, a fan; Hugh Fullerton; Joseph Vila and Will Busche, baseball writers, and William Birch, former baseball writer.

In addition to the affidavits, Herzog produced a letter from President Heydler in which the latter stated he was convinced that Herzog did not have any connection with gambling in baseball. This letter was dated June 25, after Heydler, according to Herzog, had thrashed the matter out with Benton and Herzog, finally declaring that the whole thing should be dropped and kept quiet.

ORGANIST RESIGNS

Prof. L. N. Guilbault, organist and choir director at St. Jean Baptiste church, has tendered his resignation to the pastor of the parish, which will take effect Sunday, Oct. 3. During the month of October Mr. Guilbault will give concerts in Blidford, Me., Manchester, N. H., and this city and about the first of November he will sail for Paris, France, where he will continue his piano studies. He expects to return to Lowell next summer. Mr. Guilbault prior to his coming to Lowell was organist at the Grand Seminary in Montreal several years. In Lowell he played the organ at St. Margaret's church two years and for the past five years presided over the organ and directed the choir at St. Jean Baptiste church. His successor at that church has not yet been named.

Announcement of Reduction in the Price of Their Cotton Goods

By the Amoskeag Mills is Discussed by Local Mill Men

Drop in Price Big Surprise—Its Effect Here Rather Uncertain

The announcement printed in yesterday's Sun that the Amoskeag Manufacturing company, of Manchester, N. H., owners of what is often described as "the largest textile plant in the world under one roof," has cut its prices 33 per cent, fell like an unexpected bomb in mill circles of Lowell and there was widespread discussion as to what effect the price cut might have upon local industries. Together with the Amoskeag company announcement came a statement from Henry Ford that the price of automobiles manufactured in his plant would be cut in half. Also the announcement was printed in the Wall Street Journal yesterday that the tire fabric industry is greatly overstocked. These announcements were taken as having a possible bearing upon a general cut in prices that might affect the local mills.

NEW YORK EXPLOSION REMAINS A MYSTERY

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—After one week of investigation of the explosion that spread death and terror in Wall street last Thursday, officials today were still seeking a solution of the mystery.

Scores of clues, stories and conjectures have been sifted without result. William J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice agents, was as positive as ever that the tragedy was the result of a plot of anarchists. He characterized as "plain bank" renewed stories that it was accidental and predicted that those responsible for the disaster would ultimately be brought to justice.

"It was a criminal outrage," he declared. "We are positive of that and we are going ahead on that theory."

INSPECTING LETTER CARRIERS' ROUTES

An inspection of local letter carriers' routes is now being carried out by Assistant Superintendent of Mails Edward Welch of the local postoffice. According to the regulations of the postoffice department this inspection is designated as a yearly duty, but for a period beginning with the opening of the war up to the present time it has not been carried out in this city. It was stated this morning that upon completion of the inspection the equalization and re-arrangement of the routes may necessitate the addition of one or two new carriers to the force.

The idea of the inspection is to plan the routes for the carriers so that as near as possible they will give the same amount of work to all the carriers who are all receiving the same pay. Since the opening of the war it is thought and stated by postoffice officials that in many cases, carriers' routes have become very much less thickly populated, while in other instances, as in a certain part of the Highlands, a building boom has increased the work of mail delivery.

Delivery in those routes which have become more thickly populated because of a building boom will be arranged and doubled-up with other carriers whose routes have not been affected by the entrance of new residents and have been lessened by the removal of erstwhile residents.

Japan Declares California Measure Unconstitutional and Violation of Treaty

To Ask U. S. Government to Appoint Commission to Effect Solution of Problems

TOKIO, Sept. 23.—(By Associated Press.)—The Washington government will be asked to appoint a commission to effect a solution of Japanese-American problems and in the event of the passage of the California anti-Japanese legislation, the Japanese government will arrange a law suit against the California legislature on the ground that the bill is unconstitutional and a violation of the treaty rights of the Japanese, according to leading newspapers today.

The newspapers say the above program was debated at meetings of the cabinet and the diplomatic advisory council.

DEADLOCK IN HAVERHILL SHOE SITUATION

HAVERHILL, Sept. 23.—The deadlock in the shoe situation was unchanged by the meeting of the manufacturers today. They declined to comment on their plans and announced more meetings this week. The crews in the Hervey E. Gupilli factory, numbering about 300, who have been working on a part time schedule, voted today to remain out indefinitely. This action followed the union's claim that the Gupilli firm intends to manufacture its shoes at the Seabrook plant. Union officials are tracing down reports of the laying off of operatives, foremen and office help in other factories. The building trades announced today that in the event of a general shutdown in the shoe industry they were ready to support the shoeworkers by stopping their men from working in factories affected.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Lowell Man Fined $100 for Operating Automobile While Intoxicated

Found guilty of drunkenness and of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Leude Alcide Tournant of this city, was fined $100 in police court this morning before Judge Farlight. Defendant entered pleas of guilty on both charges. The drunkenness case was placed on file. The custom of the local court in such cases in the past has been to give jail sentences, but inasmuch as the higher court has not been sustaining those decisions and has been imposing a $100 fine instead, Judge Farlight decided accordingly. The arresting officers testified that defendant drove his machine recklessly through Cabot, Salem, Common streets to Clark street where it stalled in the middle of the street.

Assault and Battery
John J. Hickory, charged with assault and battery upon James Lannon, was fined $25. The defendant admitted striking Lannon and injuring his eye, but according to his testimony the case involved circumstances in which he, defendant, was knocked on a bench by the complainant. The trouble occurred recently near the corner of Rock and Willis streets. Abraham All and Eva All, charged with assault and battery upon Louis Nant were each ordered to pay fine of $15. The trouble occurred one night in a court off Cushing street where a crowd of men and women gathered at the home of the Alls to force the issue in regard to the payment of some bill. At this time, it is said that Mrs. All sent word for the police. Upon their arrival, the officers found a large crowd in the court and there was trouble brewing. When things had quieted down and the officers turned to go, Mrs. All grabbed a leg of an old chair and attacked one of the men in the crowd, while Abraham All, the police say, armed himself with a stick armed with nails and also attacked the crowd. The officers also say that when they went to interfere, Abraham All attempted to strike them and that they had to use a club to subdue him. Counsel for the complainant produced record to show that All has been before the court before.

Liquor Cases
Two other arrests, resulting from the police campaign in rounding up liquor law violators were arranged in court this morning, but were put over for trial on September 30. Nicholas Gahares and George Viana, the defendants, were charged with illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor with intent to sell. They were brought in on warrants sworn out by Officer Michael J. O'Neill.

One man, called on continuance on a charge of drunkenness and who has been in the Cambridge jail for the past week by order of the local court "to sober up," had his case placed on file.

Sensation in Mill Circles

were willing to talk with apparent freedom on the situation today, but as is usual with them they requested that their names should not be used for publication.

The agent of one of the mills stated the situation succinctly when he said that the plants manufacturing goods that come into competition with the Amoskeag products will undoubtedly have to make a reduction in the charges for their products. He also said that the cut made by the New Hampshire concern, in his opinion, would be likely to have a depressing effect upon prices as a whole, and that manufacturers might be compelled to cut prices in many lines.

Taking the many mills of the city as a whole, it can be said that they are running on old orders, and that few new orders are coming in. It had been hoped earlier in the season that by the latter part of September there would be a development of new business, but would assure the continued operation of the plants on full time during the winter. There is still hope that sufficient new orders will show up to prevent curtailment. A considerable portion of the mills are running very nearly to their full capacity. Others have been gradually slackening up operations and work is being carried on in a way that would have been considered reasonably brisk previous to the war-time rush.

Some of the mills have cut their forces somewhat in certain departments; the Boot mill now being run at only about 75 per cent. of its capacity.

The Bay State Cotton mills, that are given over to the manufacture of fabrics for auto tires, it can be authoritatively stated, have been hard hit by adverse conditions in the tire industry. There has been a big falling off in orders and the plant is now running only four days a week. About 600 persons are now given employment by the mills. It is admitted that the future operations of the plant are uncertain, but that it is hoped that business will later pick up sufficiently to keep the wheels moving during the fall and winter season.

The American Woollen company announced a cut of approximately 20 per cent. in prices when it began taking orders for goods for next spring and summer a short time ago. Since then, persons who should be in a position to know state/business has not shown up in the proportions that had been expected. At the Bay State mills of the company the plant is now being run only four days a week, and no information is available as to the outlook for the future.

ROME FREED OF CHARGE OF DESERTION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Philip J. Rome of Worcester, found guilty of desertion from the army by a court-martial which sentenced him to a year in a military prison, was released by Judge Morton in the federal district court today on the ground that he had never legally been inducted into the service.

Rome had been assigned a number in the first stages of the draft in 1917, but left for South America on business before he was called. Subsequent orders for examination went unanswered and when he was arrested on his return to his home several months ago he said he had not received any notice.

The court-martial first decided that Rome was within its jurisdiction and subject to military trial, then heard the evidence in the case and found him guilty. On a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Morton had the man transferred from military to civil custody, admitted him to $5000 bail, and today handed down his decision that he was free.

DANGER OF REVOLUTION IN ITALY PAST

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The danger of a revolution in Italy through a Bolshevik uprising is completely past, in the opinion of French officials. This view is based on favorable reports received in the last few days.

Agreement Rejected
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A referendum among the strikers in Turin has resulted in the rejection of the agreement reached in Rome between the employers' representatives and the workers in the metal trades, says a Rome despatch to the Exchange Telegraph today.

Occupation of the F.I.A.T. Landis and Dubost automobile works, the Auto-salo aviation works and other factories, chiefly textile, will be continued, the despatch says.

Tuesday night Royal Guards were fired on, one being killed and several wounded. Three armed "red guards" were arrested.

At Milan a bomb was exploded on the threshold of the residence of a manufacturer, who was a leader of the opposition to the workers' claims.

In Savona, the metal workers have decided to reject the agreement and maintain their occupation of the plants seized.

After the refusal of a manufacturer of Brescia, Francis Gregorini, to advance 15,000 lire on account of work done during the occupation by the workers, the strikers seized another of his plants.

Announcing an Authoritative Showing of Individualized Apparel for Autumn Wear

HER SUIT

For Fall 1920 she will undoubtedly select a suit of either wool velour, silvertone, or duvet de laine. Of course her choice is not necessarily limited to the three materials mentioned above, but these are the most favored. (Colors, by the way, are brown and navy blue.)

Handsome things every one of them, gorgeously burdened with a wealth of embroidery, lavish fur trimmings, huge collars and cuffs.

Suits, are after all, the evolution of our modern demand for the practical and many a one remembers the reason for being and adheres to the simplest of tailored suits. Worn with one of the new "choker" furs they are quite the smartest costume.

Women's and Misses' Suits—Second Floor

HER FALL COAT

Bolivia, evora, wool velour and duvety, in brown, old blue, navy and variations of tan are the fabrics and colors most favored for the new coats. A warm winter coat is such a comfortable affair with its deep patch pockets, its warm, convertible collar and its general appearance of comfort.

Autumn has given a new impetus to the fashioning of wraps or perhaps it was the luxurious new fabrics which inspired the many delightful versions of the mode.

MY BLUE SERGE, those three words are so familiar. Still, navy blue serge is a dependable sort of material and when made up into a smart one-piece dress it is ideal for street or business wear. At present I am thinking of some striking cloth models which we are displaying. With few exceptions, long sleeves seem to be preferred in dresses of this character. Some beautifully braided and others richly embroidered.

Her Fall Hat

Selecting your new Fall Hat is such a delightful pleasure if you make your selection in our Millinery Shop. (Of course your hair may get slightly mussed.) Here, every woman may discover that for which every woman is seeking—a really becoming hat; a hat that will emphasize one's best points. Soft rich fabrics—duvety and velvet chief among them—the equally soft, rich tones startled into vividness here and there with a dash of brilliant coloring. Soft draped effects in close fitting turbans—chic little affairs—and large hats with slightly rolled or flared brims.—Millinery Shop—Second Floor

HER SILK FROCK

With the coming of fall days many social activities which were suspended during the summer have been resumed. Theatres, teas, club meetings, all call for the informal afternoon gown.

For the most part the new silhouette is straight and slender, particularly adapted to the style of the American woman with variations that include harem effects and redingote styles and low waist lines.

Materials are lustrous satin, rich velvets, and soft clinging georgette crepe. Many are handsomely embroidered with self or colored silk, while others are perfectly contented to hold their popularity on their sweet simplicity. A wealth of lovely models to select from.

HER BLOUSE

As closely related as pen and ink is the autumn blouse and the autumn suit. One MUST have a new blouse if a new fall suit is decided upon. And in our blouse shop on the second floor, next door neighbor to the Suit department, you will find a charming collection. Blouses of georgette, satin, and crepe de chine in suit shades, flesh or white. Any number of becoming models, one prettier than the other.

Then there are any number of lovely hand made blouses all hand drawn, some exquisitely embroidered, others trimmed with real flet.

Autumn marks the most glorious season of the year. The season when nature arrays herself in her most gorgeous raiment. When the trees change their cool green garments and bedeck themselves in beautiful autumn hues. What is more natural than, that woman should yearn to throw off summer apparel and clothe herself in new fall things.

Our store, anticipating the needs of our customers, has prepared an Autumn Exposition of authentic apparel modes. In tailoring, in texture, in design, they measure up to the standard of "Chalifoux" excellence.

SAYS LEGION INSURANCE POLICY FOR NATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, who has taken charge of arrangements for the annual convention of the legion here on Sept. 27, 28 and 29, described yesterday impressions he had received from talking with thousands of members of the legion in a four months' tour of the country.

"At least 80 per cent. of the legion members favor the four fold bonus compensation act," he said. "Members in only two of the states visited opposed it."

"There is among legion men throughout the country a wonderful spirit of tolerance and reasonableness."

ness, a desire for fair play and for national progress without going to extremes either of radicalism or reaction.

"After this convention the American Legion will be understood more clearly than ever before as a real factor in American affairs. The legion today is an insurance policy for the nation."

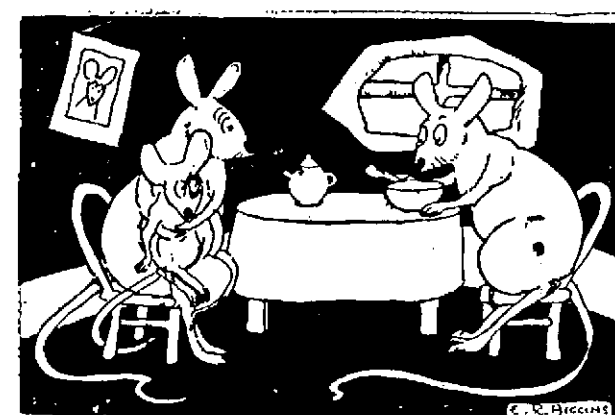

DEMAND FOR ROOMS

There has been a great demand for rooms during the past few weeks with the result that the dormitory rooms at the Y.M.C.A. are all filled and there is a long waiting list of applicants. Many of the applicants are students at the Lowell Textile school and there are also a number of men engaged in business throughout the city. Mr. Fred B. Hopkins has come to the association in the capacity of dormitory secretary. Mr. Hopkins comes from Mapleville, Rhode Island, having been for many years in the employ of the American Woolen company.

Floppy Gets Cornered
Mrs. Field Mouse looked in horrified amazement at her husband, Munchie, calmly eating his soup. How could he, when his own son was crying with an injured eye? Particularly when Floppy had almost told them that Mr. Scribble-Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, was the cause of it. Of course, he didn't just say so, exactly, but—

"I SHOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN BY ALLOWING THE AWFUL TREATMENT OF YOUR SON," SCREAMED MRS. MOUSE.

well, he let them think so anyway. How did he know that Nick, the attendance officer at the Meadow Grove school, had seen his father and made a report that morning about him and Muffy Mole playing truant.

"Mr. Mouse, I should like to know what you mean by allowing this awful treatment of your own son," screamed Mrs. Mouse. "Do you intend to let that dreadful fairyman go without a word?"

"Oh, no, I guess not," answered Munchie, quietly reaching for a paper I guess.

"He didn't either!" denied Floppy. "He didn't know how to do the earthworm problem any more than I did. All he could do was to eat. He ate worms until I thought he'd bust (Floppy said bust). The storm wrought 'em up and Muffy didn't have to hunt at all. They seemed to be hunting for him instead. And he wouldn't move an inch and couldn't get out of the hole and—"

He stopped suddenly, realizing that he had let the cat out of the bag.

"Why, Floppy Field Mouse!" cried his mother in surprise and dropping him off her lap. "Munchie, go get a birch-rod at once."

LOWELL BOYS' CLUB

Director Jeyes to Establish Group Classes in Physical Training—New Plan for Winter Program

As an innovation on the program of the Boys' club activities this fall and winter, Major Walter Jeyes, director, will establish group classes in physical training. Heretofore, the formation of group classes for this purpose has been impossible because of the large number of boys using the club at all times, but Major Jeyes will plan the classes so that they will, at different times, include the majority of the attendants of the club and still not interfere to any great extent with the sports of the youngsters who desire the use of the club rooms. At any time in the past when physical training classes were started results were good, but Major Jeyes expects good returns this winter.

In the winter of 1916 and 1917 physical classes were started and in the season of 1917 and 1918 the work was continued but with no great results. It is the idea of Major Jeyes to give the physical training in an original way so that it will not be tedious and tiresome for the boys.

TO GET DIPLOMA

High School Seniors and Juniors Must Take Course in American History and Civics

Every junior and senior attending the local high school must re-arrange his school program so as to take a course in American history and civics, if he has not already completed such in order to receive a diploma. This is in accordance with a ruling recently passed by the state legislature and became effective in all high schools of the state with the opening of schools this year.

There are many students at the local high school entering upon their last year with the intentions of entering college and who this year are busily engaged in completing other required subjects for college entrance, who must either wait another year before entering college in order to take this course now required, or take it as an extra this year. For students of the second and third year the ruling does not present such difficulties because they can arrange their studies during the coming years to meet the situation.

For those students of the third and fourth years who have not completed the course in American history and who cannot drop any one of the studies they are now taking, special arrangements will be made, if possible, according to Principal Harkins. He suggested the possibility this morning of a history course in the afternoon or during the freshman hour in the morning which is before the opening of school for the pupils of the second, third and fourth year.

Payson Smith, commissioner of education for the state, has requested that colleges award credit for courses in American history as well as for Greek and Roman history or Ancient history as has been the custom in the past. The fact that the ruling became effective immediately upon its passage and did not offer any time for preparation.

No Trouble to Keep Skin Free From Hairs

(The Modern Beauty)

There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powder with delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—Adv.

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts was linked yesterday by Mayor George H. Speaking at the Oneonta fair in behalf of the democratic ticket, Mayor Luan quoted Governor Coolidge as having said in a speech at Boston welcoming President Wilson on his return from overseas.

"We welcome him with a reception more marked than even that which was accorded General George Washington; more united than could have been given at any time during his life to President Abraham Lincoln. We assure we will support in the future in working out the destiny, as a representative of a great people, as a great statesman, as one to whom we have the past."

The Last Corn

When you end your corn with Bluejay, it will be the last corn you let grow.
You will know how to stop the pain.
And how to quickly and completely end all corns.

There are millions who use Bluejay now, and they never let a corn remain.

The new-day way

Blue-jay is the new-day way, the scientific method.

It was perfected in a laboratory world-famed for its surgical dressings.

It is supplanting the many treatments which are harsh and inefficient.

It has made paring as ridiculous as it is unsafe, for paring doesn't end corns.

Do this tonight:

Apply to a corn a Blue-jay plaster or liquid Blue-jay—whichever you prefer.

Mark how the pain stops. Then wait a little and the corn will loosen and come out.

What that corn does all corns will do. Some 20 million corns a year are ended in this way.

Don't suffer corns. Don't have your feet disfigured. They can be ended almost as easily as a dirt-spot on your face. They are just as inexcusable.

Don't forget this. It means too much to you.

Ask your druggist for Blue-jay.

BLAME TAXES FOR H. C. L.

Cotton Men Say System of Federal Taxation Creates "Intolerable Situation"

MAPLEWOOD, N. H., Sept. 23.—The present system of federal taxation was declared to have created an "intolerable situation" and to be responsible for the continued high prices of many articles, by speakers at the opening session today of the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. Suggested substitutes included an employers' privilege tax, outlined by Theodore H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, of New York, and a gross sale tax, explained by William E. Cornwell of New York.

Whose System Wrong

The people of the country, Mr. Cornwell said, are becoming educated to the fact that the whole system of taxation in the United States is wrong, adding that the system "was founded on class and sectional bias."

The present method of taxation is wastefully destructive," Mr. Cornwell continued, "but is only during the past year or so that the public has become alive to the fact. Today a vast number of people of all classes, not only bankers and business heads, but those in the rank and file of all occupations, are impressed. This widespread knowledge is mainly due to the fact that the public is beginning to see that prices are kept high in many articles because of the present excessive taxes."

Two important sources of the country's progress are being dried up by operation of the excess profits tax and the heavy surtaxes on income, the speaker said. These sources were surplus capital and intelligent enterprise.

"As to the first," he continued, "the high taxes are driving people with large incomes to invest as much as possible in tax exempt securities instead of furnishing capital for new business and general commercial and financial development."

"And as to the second, extra profits in business are being appropriated by the government instead of being used to strengthen business concerns and to provide against losses in lean periods which are bound to come."

Requirements of Good System

The requirements of a good tax system, Mr. Cornwell said, were: "That it be fair to all, that the burden be universally distributed, and that the collection be simple and easy instead of being complicated and irritating."

"A tax on gross sales is an ideal development of these requirements," he said. "It is passed along in very small fractions and add through the various processes from the producer of raw material to stage after stage during manufacture, the tax almost collecting itself, accumulating automatically as it proceeds, and is finally paid by the consumer practically without his knowledge, and the additions are so trifling as not materially to affect prices."

Mr. Price in his address declared that the present surtaxes penalize success and compel an enterprising man to pay the government an immoderate share of his gains in a profitable year, leaving him to bear the losses of an unprofitable year alone.

Explaining the employers' privilege tax which he proposed as a substitute for the present system, Mr. Price said in part:

"By and large, the great mass of things that mankind consumes are the

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Adv.

TWO HELD IN DEATH OF ROGERS CHILD

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Charles H. Rodgers, a negro, and Santo Zanghi were under arrest today as suspicious persons in connection with the death of Rogers' six-year-old stepdaughter, Dorothy, who was found unconscious on the ground in the rear of an East Lenox street house on Tuesday morning and died shortly afterward. The men were arrested late last night and denied that they knew anything concerning the child's death. When she was found, it was supposed she had fallen from the roof.

Rodgers told the police he had not lived with his wife for some time and had not seen her or the child for four months. He admitted that on Monday night he was in Blackstone park, where Mrs. Rodgers had previously said the little girl left her to buy some ice cream, and disappeared.

Zanghi, a roomer at the East Lenox street house, said he never saw the child until she was found on Tuesday morning.

SCHUMANN-HEINK Holds Public—Sings Success in Due to Fact She Loves and Respects Audience

One of the famous colleagues recently said to Ernestine Schumann-Heink: "Tell me, what are your tricks, that you hold on to your public so?" "Tricks!" answered Mrs. Schumann-Heink—and one could feel the scorn in the word as she told of the circumstance—"I have no tricks! I only sing my songs, and love and respect my audience!"

"Yes, that is the secret of my success," said Mrs. Schumann-Heink. "I keep faith with my audience, I sing my songs as well as I can, and don't try to fool my public. One place where I was going to sing the local manager wanted me to get there a day ahead of the concert and give out some interviews to the newspapers to aid in publicity. But this I would not do."

"What of the young girl who would prepare herself for a career?" was asked of Mrs. Schumann-Heink. "First of all," she replied, "she should not rush to the great cities to the often so-called famous teachers. She should remain at home, if possible, and do her preliminary study, or should have no good teacher in her little village—should she live there—she should remain in the smallest cities, where the best and most ambitious teachers of real voice work are often to be found. She is not to think only of New York, but will find in the smaller centres many earnest and capable teachers, who will display utmost fairness. There are dozens, yes, literally hundreds of fake teachers in New York, as in any other metropolis, who advertise big, take the student's money and teach nothing—while at home, the poor parents are struggling and sacrificing that the girl may have lessons. I would say to a talented girl, if you have a voice, do not decent people, who never lie, and always criticize kindly. With a good voice, good teaching and plenty of hope and courage there may almost always be a future."

Many are the titles that have been used to describe the incomparable Schumann-Heink throughout her distinguished career, but perhaps none is more indicative of the human side of the great artist than that of "good sport." Under any and all circumstances, Madame is a good sport. The life of an artist on tour—particularly when one sings in a different city, are such trifling inconveniences as traveling in day coaches because the Pullmans are cut off—of finding that the best suite in the hotel is a favor-

It's playground or little gray mice—in short, to quote the words of Schumann-Heink herself—"the hotels, meals, rooms and beer are all fierce. I can hardly eat or sleep—in fact, all I can do is sing." Of this last statement there is no doubt, judging by the press eulogies that follow her every triumphant appearance. A sense of humor that never deserts her is in evidence.

TO HELP NATURE SHED A BAD COMPLEXION

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the rejuvenating qualities of ordinary mercurized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm or inconvenience. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, yellow, freckled or blotchy surface skin, gently and gradually. This is Nature's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of defective circulation of nerve tone, mercurized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercurized wax, get an ounce of it at the drugstore, use nights like cold cream, washing it off mornings—have the surprise of your life! Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered kaolin in a half pint of witch hazel. This is remarkable and almost instantaneously effective.—Adv.

SOCIALISTS ATTEMPTED TO INVADE CHURCH

ROME, Sept. 23.—The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, says that Tuesday night the socialists attempted to invade a church in a popular quarter, but did not succeed in breaking through the door. They postponed the undertaking to a later date, when, the paper asserts, they will attempt to occupy the Lateran palace, which was once the residence of the popes.

The Osservatore Romano recalls that the Lateran palace is among the properties granted to the pope by the law of guarantees of 1871, establishing the status of the pontiff in Rome, and that therefore the palace enjoys the privilege of extra-territoriality.

The newspaper expresses the hope that the authorities will intervene in time "to prevent a handful of desperadoes committing an act which could be tolerated only in a Bolshevik regime."

The Osservatore Romano also asserts that socialists are threatening to invade the Catholic club and two nunneries.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE LAW PROVISIONS

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 23.—A warning to parents, calling their attention to the provisions of the school attendance law, was issued today by the state department of labor and industries.

Under the law referred to, every child must be kept in school, while the schools are in session, unless a working certificate has been issued for such child.

It matters not whether the child is employed in a manufacturing or other establishment or at his home, some sort of permit must be obtained from the superintendent of schools if the parents are not to subject themselves to the penalties of the law.

Before obtaining a working certificate, the child must present to the superintendent a certificate signed by a school or family physician, appointed by the school committee, stating that the child has been thoroughly examined by said physician and in his opinion is in sufficiently sound health and physically able to perform the work which the child intends to do.

The department declares that the issuance of these health certificates has not been surrounded, in the past, with proper safeguards. "An investigation of this subject," it says, "discloses the fact that in a great many cases certificates are signed without any examination being made, and that in many other cases the examination is so superficial as to be valueless."

"The issuing of health certificates to children entering industry should, in every community, be under the supervision of any physician designated for the purpose by the local school committee or the board of health. The reason for this is that it is only by placing the responsibility with a definite authority that uniform standards can be secured and maintained."

"It is the examining physician's duty to decide from the examination he makes whether the child is in sufficiently sound health to perform the work elected by him. The purpose of this requirement for health certificates is to safeguard the child entering industry, to shut out from industry children with such serious defects as to make serious and to protect children with minor defects from entering occupations or processes for which they are physically unsuited. A child with tubercular tendencies, for example, should not be certified for work in a cotton mill, nor one with a weak heart for work which would require lifting heavy weights, or running up and down stairs. A child with defective vision should not be permitted to engage in work involving eye strain."

"The object of the law is defeated unless the examination of the child is definitely related to the work he desires to enter. Examining physicians should acquaint themselves with the general nature of the occupations which children in their district enter."

RESTAURANTS MUST CUT PRICES OR FACE JURY

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—"Either reduce prices to the 1913 scale or prepare to face a federal grand jury," is the substance of the ultimatum laid down yesterday to H. E. Mettler, manager of the two Childs restaurants in Buffalo by District Attorney Stephen T. Lockwood. Mr. Mettler, answering a summons from the district attorney's office, was confronted by a mass of data and statistics gathered by the department of justice at Mr. Lockwood's request. The investigation has been in progress several weeks, Mr. Lockwood asserts.

"Our investigations have shown that cost prices to restaurants are back to the 1913 schedule," said Mr. Lockwood, "and there should be a sweeping reduction in the prices charged in Buffalo restaurants." Mr. Mettler when asked to produce figures and data to show that the two restaurants here were not profiteering, was unable to do so. He declared to the district attorney that such records and statistics were kept in the New York office and were unavailable.

Mr. Lockwood said that the figures would be sent for at once. "We are taking nothing for granted in this matter," he said, "and when the figures are before us we will go over them carefully."

Following the conference between Mr. Mettler and District Attorney Lockwood, the latter, in response to a question as to what action would be taken should Mr. Mettler refuse to cut prices, replied: "Then we will see what the federal grand jury has to say about it."

Mr. Lockwood also said: "I am convinced that the Childs people here can do business on the 1913 schedule and still make the business pay a fair margin of profit. It is their intention of assisting the district attorney in any way possible, but added that he was handicapped on account of the buying

STRONG APPEALS FOR MACSWINEY

DUBLIN, Sept. 23.—Mr. Wm. Sears, M.P., at a monster open air meeting at Preston, said the English regulated the sham courts which tried Nurse Cavell and Capt. Fryatt; and, according to the same argument, the trial of the lord mayor of Cork was no trial.

His case was infinitely stronger, as he was acting for his own country, the whole opinion of which was behind him. The outrage was only part of the policy of wrong and insult which Mr. Lloyd George admitted had ground hatred of British rule into the very blood of the Irish race. Mr. Sean Millroy also spoke.

"The horror felt throughout England at the callous treatment of Mr. MacSwiney," says the Daily Herald, "is proved by the number of resolutions passed daily by public bodies, trade councils, trade union executives, bodies of ex-servicemen, and other organizations."

Canon Ring, presiding at a protest meeting in St. George's hall, London, said freedom was a glorious thing—in Poland, but not in Ireland. If the workmen of England meant what they cheered for Mr. Lloyd George would be shoved out, and if the lord mayor of Cork died the conscience, intelligence and judgment of all the nations would decide against England.

SHE GAINS 20 POUNDS SAYS HOLYOKE MAN

Mrs. Knapp Only Weighed 94 Pounds When She Began Taking Tanlac—Now Weighs 114, and Says She Never Felt Better in Her Life

"I have just finished my fifth bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. E. L. Knapp, a highly esteemed resident of 125 Dartmouth St., Holyoke, Mass., in an interview, a few days ago.

"No one will ever know just how much I have suffered from indigestion during the past three years because I just can't fully describe it."

"My food just seemed to lie like lead in the pit of my stomach and the gas from it would press on my heart with such force as to almost cut off my breath, and my heart would beat so fast that it frightened me."

"My stomach was feverish and so crampy at times I could hardly stand it. I had to refrain from eating the things I like best, as they were like poison to me, and confine myself to a diet of food, butter, milk and the very lightest of foods, and even these hurt me."

"My appetite left me entirely—I simply had to force myself to eat—and my stomach was so upset that even the smell of things cooking nauseated me. I suffered from constipation and had awful headaches. I felt so tired and achy all the time that it was an effort for me to get around at all."

"My nerves were so shattered that I would get all upset over almost nothing and my sleep was so restless that it seemed to do me no good. My color was sallow and unhealthy looking and my friends, as well as myself, were uneasy about my condition."

"But I have undergone such a wonderful change since I began taking Tanlac that those who used to sympathize with me are now talking about how well I look."

"When I first began taking it I only weighed ninety-four pounds and I now weigh one hundred and fourteen. My stomach seems in the best condition I ever was and my color is just fine. I can eat just anything now and everything seems to agree with me perfectly for I never have a touch of indigestion."

"Why, I can even eat a hearty supper and go right to bed and sleep all night as sound as a child. That tired feeling, the headaches, and all my pains are gone. To put it in a few words, I don't believe I have ever felt better in all my life. After getting such wonderful results myself I could not do otherwise than tell others about Tanlac. I will praise it the longest day I live."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greene drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

NEW YORK PHYSICIAN TELLS WHY MORE ORGANIC PHOSPHATE MEANS MORE NERVE VITALITY

The Nerves, the Blood, the Bones of Over 40% of American Men and Women Need Organic Phosphat and Need It Badly

A Vigorous Healthy Body and Keen Active Mind Belongs to Those Who Have Plenty of It.

When will weak, played-out, thin, puny and ambitious people learn that there is nothing much the matter with them and that all they need is a few grains of the right kind of phosphate every day for a few weeks to make them as energetic, vigorous and forceful as of old?

Every month thousands of people are learning that lack of sufficient nerve vitality is the underlying cause of many diseases.

Your nerves control your body and without an abundant supply of nerve force life is worry, fear and disappointment.

Phosphorus is one of the vital elements of every living cell in your body and there are millions of them.

Nature's way is to supply phosphorus to these cells with the food you eat in the form of phosphates.

But to millions of people modern foods do not supply enough organic phosphate, so there you are.

And just for the lack of this same organic phosphate which every druggist sells under the name of "Bitter-Phosphate 40 per cent. and over of the men and women of America are today crying in the wilderness for health and strength and a chance to live a cheerful, vigorous, helpful life."

"Nerve weakness, both physical and mental, is indeed a curse to the nations," says a well-known New York physician.

"Feed your nerves the food that makes nerve force; that helps to rebuild every run-down, starving cell in your body."

"If I had my way Bitter-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor in the land," says Frederick M. Kottle, M.D., Editor-in-Chief of Physicians' "Who's Who," a nationally known author of medical text books and a brilliant physician.

Later on, Dr. Kottle says: "It is no difficult to detect women who have plenty of nerve vitality, nerves that are rich in organic phosphate" (this is equally true of men); "the women are usually cheerful, magnetic and pleasing; they have youth and vigor at 50 and even 60 years and are bubbling over with vitality. You don't find them pale, weak, nervous or haggard looking at 40 or complaining of this or that ailment."

Every day thousands of men and women who are losing their youth before their time; whose mental and physical powers are so limited that total discouragement is near, are learning that Bitter-Phosphate a simple organic phosphate that A. W. Dows and every druggist dispenses, is all they need to re-establish nerve vitality, strength and keenness of mind.

TO INCREASE COAL SUPPLY FOR STATE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The appointment of five coal dealers to act as advisory committee to the state fuel administration, Eugene C. Sullivan, was announced by Governor Coolidge yesterday in an effort to insure sufficient and adequate coal supply for the state during the coming winter.

The members of the committee are William A. Clark of Boston, president of the Massachusetts Coal Dealers association; Wallace Phinney of Boston, City Fuel Co.; Edward H. Hain, Boston, Metropolitan Coal Co.; Elmer A. B. Brockton, and George Pickering of Salem.

Henry F. Long, the governor's secretary, said that the governor had received letters from all parts of the state appealing for assistance in obtaining coal and that the situation was serious. The committee will meet today at the state house.

Coal For All

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—All wants of coal consumers, big and little, will be adequately met before winter sets in, the National Coal Association declared last night in a review of the coal situation throughout the country.

The statement said: "Householders need not feel it necessary to fill their bins with the entire winter's supply at this time. By taking only enough coal now to tide them over to December first the entire situation will work out with no great privation to any one."

Reviewing the New England situation, the association declared that the suspension of the priority shipment order of the interstate commerce commission was due to the improvement in the coal supply of that territory and it was added that the six million and a half tons yet required there would be handled in the ordinary way.

REGISTRATION SESSIONS
Thirty-eight women and two men had their names placed on the voting list at a registration session, which was held last evening at the Riverside school. This evening a registration session will be held at the Morey school for wards 3 and 5.

James Jackson, the republican candidate for state treasurer, received votes for every office on the state ticket and for congressman, county commissioner and sheriff. Not less than 1000 votes for Jackson, he counted among "all other candidates" because of the failure of the voters on these cases to give Mr. Jackson's residence.

Charles Ponzi, erstwhile "financial wizard," received two votes for state treasurer and Cardinal O'Connell was given one vote for governor.

The official figures for the candidates on the democratic and republican state tickets are as follows:

LOWELL MINISTER TO
TAKE THE STUMP

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The Rev. G. C. Wright, minister of the Lowell Free church, has volunteered to go on the stump for church and country this fall, according to an announcement made today by the speakers' bureau of the Unitarian campaign. Mr. Wright's name appears on a list of speakers which includes about one-third of the active Unitarian ministers of the United States and Canada who have been recruited for service.

"Ernest G. Adams, a Boston business man who is chairman of the Unitarian campaign committee," said the announcement, "has stated that Godliness must be manifested in the voting booth as a means toward the creation of true democracy in the United States. He has determined, therefore, that Unitarian speakers shall take the stump during the coming political campaign and co-operate by emphasizing those moral issues which must receive the support of voters of all parties if the structure of the republic is not to decay and go the way of old world dynasties which have abandoned the practice of true Christianity."

FAREWELL SERMON
Rev. Walton Hall Doggett, pastor of St. Alban's mission at North Chelmsford, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday. Next week Mr. Doggett will go to Dedham, where he will take charge of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Tuesday evening Rev. and Mrs. Doggett were tendered a farewell reception by the members of St. Alban's mission, the affair being held in the mission hall. In the course of the evening the couple were showered with best wishes and were presented suitable gifts. Next Mr. Doggett is receiving a number of gold and silver gifts, a handbag and flowers. Interesting remarks were made and entertainment numbers were given.

HARDING SENTIMENT

Wanes in California—Chester
Rowell Tells Why

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Anti-Harding sentiment is growing rapidly in California.

Chester H. Rowell, editor of the Fresno Republican, one of the most influential newspapers in the state, has come out bitterly against Harding. Rowell two years ago was republican state chairman and in 1916 was on the Hughes national campaign committee of 16.

William Kent, former congressman, just defeated for the republican nomination for senator, is against Harding. Kent has not made a public statement as Rowell has, but it is practically a foregone conclusion that before November he will publicly bolt the republican party.

Line Up for Phelan
Both Rowell and Kent also favor Senator Phelan for re-election, though Phelan is a democrat. This is also true of Fremont Older, famous California editor. The latter's bolt is all the more significant since he is now editor of The Call, a Hearst paper.

It is not at all unlikely that Older, a bosom friend of Rowell, will follow the Fresno leader's action in bolting Harding.

The attitude of these three men, who have a powerful influence and big followings, is typical of the attitude of California on the national election. There is an enormous independent class of voters, many of whom apparently are against the Harding personality and platform. "Cox can swing over this independent vote, which is necessary to enable him to carry California," said Rowell. "By continuing to show to Californians an outstanding personality and a definiteness of stand on issues."

Rowell is a strong League of Nations advocate. He believes Cox will gain many thousands of votes here on that issue.

"Women in California are very strong for the league," Rowell said. "I believe the majority of women will vote for Cox. Churches here are in politics and the church people also are league advocates. I do not believe the church people and the dregs will be alienated from Cox by the wet-bogey, especially since Cox's Portland speech."

Rowell set all California laughing by his ridicule of Harding, capped by the public statement that rather than vote for Harding he would cast his ballot for Sun Yat-sen. "Harding doesn't know what the League of Nations is all about," said Rowell. "He doesn't even know what the Root plan is, though he is espousing it. He told Hoover he was for the league and he told William Johnson he was against it."

Party Labels Not Popular
"Anything can happen in California in a national election," continued Rowell. "Witness 1916 when Hughes lost the state by 3000 and Johnson won it by 27,000. For years Republicans or Democrats have captured congressional nominations on both tickets. There are few democrats in San Diego, yet a democrat represents San Diego in congress."

"Californians are so independent in political thought that they don't care a rap for party labels. That is going to be demonstrated in November. It will cause surprises, though mathematically California registration and proportional estimation has a potential republican majority of 530,000. It would be folly to say Harding will get those votes."

MELROSE PROTESTS
FARE INCREASE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Melrose city officials and prominent citizens, including Mayor Adams and members of the Hillcrest club, protested yesterday to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company against the increased car fares on that system.

They entered their objections to the installation of two zones within the limits of Melrose, insisting that it is exorbitant to charge a 29-cent fare for a ride of only a mile or two. It was claimed by the delegation that factories are suffering from the higher fares as employees living in other towns are quitting their jobs rather than pay more money to ride on the cars.

In a letter received from H. J. Sircum he stated that his factory has been affected since the new fare schedule went into effect, a number of the employees living in other places than Melrose having resigned and gone elsewhere.

TO REPAIR BUILDING
At a recent meeting of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica plans were formulated to raise money for the purpose of erecting the expense of repairs that are being contemplated on the building of the organization and the following committee was appointed to assist the board of trustees in this work: James Condon, Carroll J. Delellanty and F. F. Sheridan.

WARNING PROCLAMATION

Mayor Peters of Boston Urges Residents to Take Every Precaution to Prevent Another Bomb Disaster

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Mayor Peters last night issued an official proclamation requesting that residents of this city take every precaution to prevent a duplication of the Wall street bomb explosion here.

The mayor said in part: "The terrible catastrophe which occurred in New York a few days ago, caused by anarchists, should warn the people of Boston to take every precaution to prevent a similar occurrence in our city."

"Every necessary step to safeguard the lives of our citizens and property of our city has been taken by the authorities."

"The recent threats of violence on the lives of our citizens and the destruction of property of our city point out clearly the necessity of strict vigilance in the safeguarding of our American institutions."

He asked that every citizen "assume the responsibility of protecting the lives of his fellow citizens and property of our city in this crisis," and report to the police authorities any suspicious movement on the part of any man or group of men "who seek to crush our government by violence."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
A busy program for the fall and winter has been planned by the members of the Arvenis class of the Calvary Baptist church. At a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Merrill, 37 Walker street, plans were discussed and after the business meeting a social and entertainment was held. Refreshments were served and Mrs. Hazel Burris, Mrs. Mattie Dillon and Mrs. Bertha Kew assisted the hostess.

Concentrated ink comes in tubes like tooth paste and is squeezed out a drop at a time.

LAYING A GHOST

Sound upon the tucket, beat upon the drum. A world, weary with attempts to digest an over-supply of political issues, can now rest peacefully at night.

Sometime ago the campaign publicity agents gave out the news that Governor Coolidge had gone into the kitchen and, to assist his wife, had engaged in the humble, task of fashioning dough around holes and dropping it into sizzling fat. Our esteemed contemporary across the street immediately conceived that a mighty doughnut issue had been thrust before the world. Might not this be an attempt of the enemy to queer the governor with a multitude of male voters lacking a fondness for messing their hands up with sticky dough? If so, might not Harding and Coolidge be defeated and the nation continue to go to the dogs as, in the opinion of good republicans, it always does when the democrats are in power?

The truth must be learned at all hazards, evidently concluded our neighbor. At any rate it got into communication with Mrs. Coolidge, whether by personal visit, telephone or letter it is not stated. Now it says it has learned "from no less a source than the governor's lady herself (but not only were there no doughnuts made on that day, but that to the best of her knowledge and belief she has never made any). The doughnut," our contemporary assures its anxious readers, "thus ceases to be an issue in the campaign."

The ghost is therefore laid. The doughnut issue has been swallowed.

THE LONDON TIMES' VIEW

It is rather unusual for the London Times to offer any recognition or sympathy to the Irish patriots who show a willingness to lay down their lives for the cause of Irish freedom; but that great moulder of public opinion in England offers some salutary advice to the government in reference to its policy towards Mayor MacSwiney of Cork and the treatment of Sinn Fein leaders in general.

When the heart of the Times is touched, the circumstances must be very unusual, and this is undoubtedly a fact, for not since the case of Sir Thomas More has there been one that will shine in history as that of Mayor MacSwiney, whose hunger strike is a protest against his arrest and imprisonment by an alien government whose right or assumed authority in Ireland, it does not recognize.

The following statement from the Times undoubtedly represents the common-sense of the British public:

"Because behind all its excesses in violence and all its cruelties in ideal, we have recognized in the new Irish movement the traces of self-sacrificing and fearless devotion, our condemnation of it has often been qualified. The government have, on the other hand, acted as though Sinn Fein were a purely criminal organization and Sinn Feiners necessarily criminals."

"We have expressed unhesitatingly and with grave emphasis our profound disapproval of the course which the government are following. We have indicated another, which, in our opinion, would compromise neither the national honor nor even such reputation for strength as the government possess. We can do no more."

If the line of policy here suggested by the Times were followed, the Irish question would soon be settled and peace, not ruinous war, would reign throughout the land. But Carson says "no!" and he is still the dictator of the coalition ministry. Not even King George exercises a tithe of the influence wielded by "King" Carson. This is all the more deplorable because Carson's whole being is devoted to religious bigotry and intolerance. He is originally responsible for all this trouble in Ireland; but former Premier Asquith and the present Premier Lloyd George, must share with Carson the blame for all the warfare, all the loss of life and destruction of property that has occurred in Ireland since 1915. It all came as a result of Carson's opposition to home rule and the cowardice of weak-kneed Asquith in saying in 1914 that "it is unthinkable to coerce Ulster" into casting her fate with the rest of Ireland.

SAVING POWER OF EDUCATION

In its wisdom, the legislature of Massachusetts has enacted a law providing for the setting-up of schools in industrial plants for instruction of the employees in English and elementary subjects. These schools, the statute provides, are to be under the control of the school authorities of cities and towns, which shall pay for the employment of teachers, while the owners of the industrial plants are to furnish quarters free of expense.

An effort apparently is to be made to have schools of this sort introduced into Lowell. That the success of the movement can long be delayed is hardly believable. As the state is to pay half of the expense of maintaining such schools, unless the city adopts the plan it will be paying for the carrying on of the schools in other cities and towns without receiving any benefit itself.

That the establishment of such schools would be welcomed by the managers of most, if not all, of the city's leading industrial plants, would seem to be quite certain. The recent bomb outrage in New York city has called attention to forces of destruction that are menacing to an extent not generally realized. The leaders, who plan such outrages, find ready ground for sowing seeds of their dangerous propaganda among the ignorant who, in many cases, are not able to speak the English language.

The best safeguard against Bolsheviki, communists, anarchists, and all the other "reds" who would destroy society, is education as to right and duty—education that will give men and women from foreign shores a wider knowledge of our institutions and teach them to think straight. The owners of industrial plants place fire insurance upon their buildings. Fully as necessary a form of insurance can be provided by assuring the fullest and freest opportunities for education for the workers in the plants.

WASHBURN-FULLER FIGHT

Senator Washburn of Worcester has bolted the republican ticket and has come out as an independent candidate for lieutenant governor against Congressman Fuller, the regular party nominee.

He assails Fuller unmercifully as unfit for the office, an enemy of the party and a man who deceived the voters by false charges. He is to challenge Fuller and the democratic nominee to joint debates, perhaps knowing that they will not advertise him to the extent of meeting him in such a public manner.

We surmise, however, that Mr. Fuller will not run away from Washburn or any other man on the stump in this campaign. A humorous phase of the situation is, that Channing Cox, the nominee for governor, has already come out and stated that he would be proud to have Fuller for his running mate on the ticket. Washburn praises Cox but assails Fuller unmercifully. He charges the latter with being an inveterate opponent of Senator Lodge and ex-Governor Crane and the friends of both these leaders are to be stirred up against Fuller.

The Boston Herald, naturally trying to discount the democratic candidate, claims that Fuller will receive democratic votes that will put him ahead of his ticket and that Washburn will have little consideration. There is here a splendid opportunity to elect Mr. O'Leary or some other candidate, should O'Leary retire, as has been suggested, on account of his enemies within his own party.

In some quarters it is hinted that Senator Lodge will come out against Fuller on account of his attitude on the League of Nations; but the senior senator is too regular to come out and oppose a nomination made by popular vote. He does not want to draw down upon his heavy head the wrath of such a vigorous fighter as Fuller.

EXPELLING SOCIALISTS

Still the New York assembly persists in its decision to expel the socialist members, even after the party to which the socialists belong had modified its platform to meet the objections of the assembly men. It is quite apparent that in the present case at least the assembly has made a grave blunder. The socialists will probably be re-elected with larger majorities.

Henry Ford leads the way in fixing lower prices for his various lines of automobiles. That will doubtless cause an increase in the sales that may compensate for the reduction. This action by the Ford company is likely to cause a reduction in the price of other automobiles. It is well to find Henry Ford leading the way back to normal conditions.

Pittsburg restaurant keepers, having admitted that they were making 100 per cent profit on most dishes, have agreed to reduce prices rather than face prosecution. It isn't safe, though, for restaurant patrons nearer home to conclude that this straw indicates the blowing of a favorable wind in their direction.

Brigadier General William J. Nicholson thinks that the perpetrator of the Wall street bomb outrage should be "killed like a snake." Even the most venomous snake that ever crawled the earth would be entitled to greater mercy.

There is doubtless something to be said in favor of giving widespread circulation to some of the communist literature that is being issued as a means of demonstrating what a silly travesty on common sense the whole absurd scheme of communism is.

A clergyman says that one of the surest ways to achieve success is to expect it, but the man who takes his place on the waterfront and waits in expectation for his ship to arrive laden with good fortune is likely to spend a lot of time waiting.

It would have been very nearly a miracle if officeholders at city hall had expressed disapproval of the present character at the commission hearing, and not many miracles are happening this year.

Young Theodore Roosevelt says that the democratic vice presidential candidate "does not have the brand of our family." Perhaps he has reason to be glad that this is true. The brand may have changed.

Kaiser Wilhelm, presenting a hospital to a Dutch city, probably doesn't realize how many people there have been who would have liked to see him inside of one with his name on the dangerous list.

The unpleasant experience of another Lowell girl, who accepted an invitation for an auto ride from strangers, adds one more warning of a dangerous practice for fathers and mothers to heed.

It would be well for police officials to take notice that the crowing of crows through the mails threatening to blow up people or buildings is becoming altogether too common an occupation.

That ringleader Californian who held a progressive state convention all on his own book, shows us that there is at least one bull moose who hasn't been a quitter.

The policemen may be pardoned if they object to the installation of the chamber of commerce that they might become politicians.

Italy is preparing to celebrate the death of Dante who has been 600 and some odd years alive.

SEEN AND HEARD

Even the striking of a match makes a New York banker jump these days.

It isn't much of a nation that hasn't a crisis of some sort.

Taft is to take the stump for Harding. Is he too heavy for that front porch?

Some people believe that half of one per cent. refers to enforcement and not content.

Do members of the municipal council agree with Barrow that "God designs a charitable intercourse should be maintained among men, mutually pleasant and beneficial?"

Ed Pointer of the Boston Globe has a pear tree, but he says the boys have a mortgage on it. Some kind friend advises him to keep a dog, but owing to the high cost of dog meat Ed allows that he'll let the tree do its own barking.

Black Post Where?

About now be prepared to hear predictions of various backwoods weather prophets, that we are to have a long, cold, hard, unrelenting and disagreeable winter, because a black raven walked backward into a clump of bushes, and a wild goose refused to lay an egg on the edge of a lake, and that a trapper had reduced the price of hard frozen meat to 10 cents.

Small Town Jag

"Trucks bring in 200 to 300 cases of whiskey," says a headline to "run runners" story in Boston paper. Doesn't take much to get a big headline on the "booze" story nowadays. When everything was open and the sky was the limit, two or three hundred cases wouldn't represent even a small town "jag."

The Garage Home

The garage home is an answer to the rent problem. A small payment down gets a good building lot, often large enough for garden, berries and chickens. The buyer builds a neat double garage at a cost of a few hundred dollars, divides it with temporary partitions into two or three rooms, puts in the plumbing fixtures he intends to use later in a house, moves in and laughs at landlords. Having started thus on the road to home ownership, the garage-residence is an incentive to economies. The quicker the first little debt is paid off, the sooner will the desired modern residence be the front of the lot be a reality. The idea is a good one and it takes it up as likely to be taken up by the whole market whole subdivisions with garages erected, ready for occupancy until the day when the house can be built.

Mourning Matilda

Blue are the eyes of Matilda.
Blue as the sky;
Blue is the mood of Matilda—
Would you know why?

Gerald made love to Matilda.
Shy as a fawn;
Wanted to marry Matilda;
Now he is gone.

Gerald could offer Matilda
Houses and cash;
Gerald looked fine to Matilda;
Soon came the crash.

Bessy was blue-eyed Matilda.
So said the folks;
Gerald was told by Matilda;
"Please do not smoke."

Gerald is calling on Hilda,
Gentle and good;
Pity the blue-eyed Matilda;
Blue is her mood.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It is very likely a relic of our primitive days that we like to collect things that have little intrinsic value. In boyhood days postage stamps and old coins offer their inducements at things to be accumulated, and later we may turn our attention to steins or old pipes. Hidden away somewhere, most of us doubtless have a store of "collected" articles of some sort.

Traffic manager W. E. Whitcomb, in the chambers of commerce, is campaigning on the fall of articles relating to the transportation business. A day or two ago he showed me some of his latest acquisitions. One of these is an employee's pass, issued by the "Lowell & Concord railroads," July 11, 1883, and good for passage between Lowell and Nashua.

We were both of us somewhat at a loss to know exactly what the "Lowell & Concord railroads" might have been. Years ago there was the Boston & Lowell, The Lowell & Nashua and the Concord railroads, but memory does not recall that there was ever a corporation bearing the name "Lowell & Concord railroads." Perhaps some old-time railroad man can furnish enlightenment on this subject. The pass states that it is "not good in opposite direction." Years ago a man was put off a train of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad because he attempted to use a ticket in the opposite direction from that set forth on the ticket. He sued the company and obtained substantial damages. Thereafter all New Haven road tickets, until the line was taken over by the government at the commencement of the war, read "good in either direction."

Another curiosity in Mr. Whitcomb's collection is a way bill of the Frisburgh railroad, issued July 5, 1848. It calls for the transportation of freight from Charlestown to Townsend Harbor. It is interesting that the charges in those days were about one-third what they are today. It is also interesting to note that the bill was issued by the train conductor.

I am told that there is considerable interest in the forthcoming celebration of Columbus day by the local Knights of Columbus, the most pretentious feature of which will be a grand dinner in the evening for the knights and their ladies. It is a few years now since a celebration of any magnitude was staged in Lowell on Columbus day, chiefly on account of the war and its problems. Hence, the knights are endeavoring to make this year's observance a most creditable affair. In the morning they are to march to St. Peter's church and in the afternoon they are to make an impressive parade on parade. Grand Knight Brizgan looks for an exceptionally large turnout at the parade and at the dinner in the evening. The Knights of Columbus are evidently as strong as ever, and because of that fact there is abundant reason for anticipating a dignified and creditable observance of their natal day.

COX IN TRAIN WRECK

slipped 10 feet from the track and partly toppled over.

On Again, On Again

The first locomotive of the double header, Engineer F. C. Sullivan of Prescott, left the rails first and then jumped on again, but the second engine toppled over amid a cloud of escaping steam. The tender of the forward locomotive also fell over, while the first passenger coach ran the length of the overturned baggage car and jammed its forward end into the trucks.

All of the passengers in all cars were thrown topsy turvy. Many suffered bruises and cuts from flying glass. In the rush to escape, several women passengers in the coaches were put through broken windows.

Gov. Cox was in the dining room of his private car going over passengers with Dr. Robert C. Goldsmith, his assistant on the League of Nations question, when the crash occurred.

Cox Ankle Injured

"What's that?" he shouted, rising to his feet only to be thrown heavily across the car against its wall. He slid the injured ankle, a pipe while waiting for a wrecking train to arrive and take him back to Phoenix.

Of the passengers, including several of the local reception committee of Prescott and Phoenix, Judge E. D. Bollinger of the Mojave county court suffered a bruised leg. Several others had cuts and bruises and torn clothing. Personal effects of all members of the train were scattered and broken.

Charles Nichols, the engineer, was taken to Phoenix in a passing automobile, and first aid was given to several others. Philip Alton, Prescott, brakeman, who was alone in the baggage car when it turned over, suffered scalp lacerations. The fireman on the second engine was unable to jump and crawled from the wreckage without a scratch.

Delay Saved Candidate

That Gov. Cox escaped injury was due, it was said, to delay in a conference with the Prescott reception committee, J. J. Sinoai, representing the democratic national committee on the campaign trip, and Chairman Norris of the Prescott committee, were en route to the private car to get the governor to go forward to the first coach, where the reception committee was riding, when the crash came. Most of those bruised or cut were in the forward coach.

The railroad track was torn up for a distance of from 300 to 400 feet, with bent rails, broken ties and glass scattered about, even in an adjacent cotton field. Railroad officials were unanimous in declaring that a spreading rail under the two heavy locomotives and unusually heavy steel equipment caused the wreck. The line is not a main artery, but a branch of the Santa Fe system, and the rails, it is said, were not of the heaviest type.

Humor was current among the farm people and others who gathered soon after the wreck that a man had been seen running along the road beside committee.

Says His Prescription

Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times the terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

His idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who look it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Fred Howard has been appointed agent for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

DON'T STAY RUN DOWN

If you have been indolent in eating, living habits, or your system taxed by overwork, and you have become all run down, don't stay that way, it is dangerous, as you are in a condition to take on many other more serious diseases. Build yourself up again by simply taking from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after each meal, and watch how quickly you will regain your normal health again.

People beyond the age of middle life cannot stand what they used to, and have to be more discreet in all of their modes of living. The majority of such people need to take occasionally a good stomach and liver regulator, for it is an indisputable fact that by keeping the liver active and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order, old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

To attain this there is no better remedy than SEVEN BARKS, which has for many, many years faithfully and successfully served the public.

If your system gets run-down, take warning, or you will be sorry when it's too late. Take plenty of exercise, fresh air, keep good hours, eat moderately of the right food, and tone up your stomach, liver and kidneys by taking SEVEN BARKS. For sale by druggists, 50 cents per bottle.—Adv.

LAWRENCE LADY IS PLEASED

WITH VITALITAS RESULTS

"Nothing So Wonderful as Vitalitas for Rheumatism and Indigestion."

Says Mrs. Haeberle, Who Resides at 179 Spruce Street, Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. Haeberle says: "It seems like a wonderful miracle to be able to eat what I desire without fear of after-effects. For years I have had rheumatism and stomach disorders and could find little or no relief in medicine. I finally tried Vitalitas. It has helped me wonderfully. It certainly does the work and I can recommend it to all. My rheumatism is about all gone and my stomach troubles have vanished."

It is no longer a secret that the American public is simply tired of buying patent medicines, filled with "poisonous dopes and alcohol," in days past, this kind of medicine did a thriving business, but today we are living in a different age. People are beginning to wake up and realize that nature furnishes the greatest cure for many ills. The reason why Vitalitas is gaining world-wide recognition is because it is a product from nature, containing nothing but free minerals from Mother Earth.

A word to thin, delicate people—people who suffer from rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness, stomach, kidney or liver ills, start this treatment at once. Get it at Green Drug Store, Merrimack Square, a Lowell store for Lowell people. You always get what you ask for at Green.

LONDON PAPER PAYS

TRIBUTE TO MACSWINEY

Most of the harsh words concerning the lord mayor of Cork seem to be said in America for some strange reason. Many of the British newspapers and weeklies adopt a tone of frank admiration, even those who are bitterly opposed to an Irish republic. The "Irish Times" writes in its American edition that it is interested in the following editorial from the New Statesman, the London weekly. This weekly has opposed an Irish republic.

"There has unquestionably been in modern Ireland a strange and moving revival of the sacrificial idea. The lord mayor of Cork, in the speech in which he accepted office—the speech the delivery of which was one of the chief counts in the indictment against him—announced to his fellow-countrymen: 'It is not to those who inflict the most suffering, but to those who suffer most, that victory will come.' That is the mood in which thousands of young Irishmen are living today."

"We may differ from the policy of men who speak and act in this way. We may count as sin what they count as virtue. But, in presence of the exalted ideal to which they are aware that the eternal miracle has happened—the miracle of the man who voluntarily gives his life for his people. Mr. MacSwiney may remain indifferent; but the common man cannot remain indifferent."

the track just before the train left the track, but the rumor lacked confirmation and was not credited by Gov. Cox, members of his party or railroad operatives.

Among prominent local democrats who were on the governor's train to attend the Prescott meeting were United States Senator Henry L. Ashurst and W. L. Barium, state national committee.

It has been found that ostrich eggs last for many weeks without any particular care.

DRY PRESIDENTIAL

NOMINEE WOULD QUIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition presidential nominee, declared in an address yesterday before the 15th international congress against alcoholism that he would withdraw from the presidential race in a pledge of support for the dry program could be obtained from any one of the other candidates.

"I ask only two things of the other two candidates," Mr. Watkins said. "Whenever one of them pledges himself to enforce the 18th amendment and enforce the Volstead act, if elected, and to use all of his power and influence to retain them as a part of the nation's law, I will agree to ask our national committee to release me from the ticket."

POLO NOTES

Bridgeport, with George Hart, brother of "Bob," and Socks Quigley in the lineup will play Lowell at the Crescent rink Friday night.

Ferdie Harkins in discussing the game the other night said that the opening crowd in Connecticut was very large and enthusiastic indicating a healthy "come back" after a long lay off.

It certainly looked strange to see Harkins in the opponents' lineup the other night. But whether with us or "agin us" he's the same clever, clean, aggressive and gentlemanly fellow, and all local fans wish him success in his new "home."

Jack Kehoe, who has played in various parts of the formation of the present American Roller Polo league, put up one of the best games of his career here with Hartford.

FISH AND GAME CLUB

AT WILLOW DALE

The annual outing of the Lowell Fish and Game association is being held at Willow Dale this afternoon and the number present is far in excess of any previous outing held by the association. Members of the outing had wished for good weather and they surely got their wish, for it is ideal outing weather.

The trip to the scene of the outing was made in automobiles which left Thorndike street at about 12:45 o'clock and, after a short parade through the center of the city, made their way to Willow Dale where an appetizing dinner with hot roast lamb as the piece de resistance was awaiting them.

After the dinner had been well attended and after dinner speeches were in order and then came the program of sports. And it was some program of sports. And it was some program of sports. And it was some program of sports.

The program, too, including trap shooting, by casting, boat racing, sack racing, a race for young and old men, with a baseball game to cap the climax. The sports were in full swing at the time of going to press. Read The Sun tomorrow for complete report of the outing.

QUIMET REALIZES

AMBITION AT GOLF

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Francis Quimet who as boy and man, has accomplished nearly everything possible in golf, is happy today in the realization of the ambition of all golfers. He holed out in one. Playing on the links of the Commonwealth Country club, the third off with a midiron from the third tee, with the hole 213 yards away. The ball is slightly down hill. The ball sped true, rolled to the flagstick and dropped into the cup. It was the first time he had holed out in a single stroke.

TWILIGHT GAME ON

Pitts' South Ends and the nine representing the local post of the American Legion will line up on the South common this evening in a twilight game for the benefit of "Buck" Freeman, a well known Lowell ball player. Freeman is a member of the American Legion and the South End team. He has also played with the Glendale, the C.M. A.C., Graniteville and other teams, all of which are expected to be represented by large delegations at this evening's game.

TWO BOXERS SUSPENDED

State Boxing Commission Revokes Licenses of Two Men—Commissioner Buckley Talks

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The state boxing commission announced the suspension of two boxers yesterday. The license of Jesse Souza who boxed under the name of "Buck" Freeman, was suspended, according to Commissioner Eugene Buckley, that Souza "played ball" and "used foul language" to a referee at a recent bout in New Bedford.

The other boxer, whose name was withheld by the commission, was suspended because of poor physical condition. He is not a resident of the state.

Crescent Rink—Friday Night

PLOURDE IS CHAMPION

Lowell Man Wins Lightweight Wrestling Title From Eugene Tremblay

Peter Plourde of this city is now the lightweight wrestling champion of the world, having won the title from Eugene Tremblay of Montreal, in a fast and exciting match at the Crescent rink last night.

Tremblay had held the title for more than ten years and he entered the ring confident of successfully defending the championship. Plourde, who has been after a chance to grapple for the championship for some time, trained as never before for the match. He had worked for over a month to get into condition and he was in the pink when he climbed through the ropes last night. Tremblay also looked to be in perfect shape.

The men got right down to business as soon as the bell rang, and the fans were treated to some fast and remarkably scientific wrestling. Both men displayed great speed and strength and executed themselves from many seemingly impossible holds. After a half hour of strenuous work Tremblay finally pinned Plourde to the mat. He used a front catch hold and arm combination.

After a brief rest the pair came on for the second fall. Again bewildering speed characterized their work. Plourde determined to stave off defeat until his man like a tiger. When Tremblay in danger he would employ all his cunning and ability to break away. Plourde was like a flash to see an opening and at length he succeeded in applying a body scissors and arm hold that brought his opponent's shoulders to the mat. This fall came in 23 minutes.

Tremblay was injured as a result of Plourde's punishment, but after an examination by a physician, who found him suffering much pain, he was able to get back on his feet for the third bout. Plourde had no alternative but to try and win. It was a championship match and Tremblay had the forfeit or taking his chances in the third fall. He chose the latter. It took Plourde three minutes to score the final fall which brought him the championship. He used a body scissors.

Plourde's friends rushed to the ringside to congratulate him, while many also congratulated the fallen champion for his game battle.

The semi-final bout between Jack Desrosiers of Nashua and Kid Reynolds of Billerica was won by the former in 21 minutes.

The other bout introduced Alfred Beauchemin and Young Dube, and it went half an hour to a draw. The bout was a hummer.

Joe Rogers made a satisfactory referee, and Frank Davey acted as timer.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Vice President Marshall's opinion of his position attracted attention here today. Introduced at a banquet as "an official," he said:
"To call the vice president of the United States an official is an outrage. Bring your son up to become a president of the United States, but don't train him for the vice presidency. Give him a fair chance.

GOV. COX REPLIES TO TAFT

Declares Ex-President Should

Be Ashamed of Himself—

Water Carrier for G. O. P.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 23.—A statement declaring that ex-President Taft should be "ashamed of himself" for his statement regarding use of militia in Ohio during the Cox administration was issued yesterday by Gov. Cox, democratic nominee, during his Arizona campaign.

Commenting on Mr. Taft's recent article, which said that Gov. Cox "indisposition to maintain order by use of the militia is well known to local union leaders and explains his popularity with them," Gov. Cox made the following statement:

"It has been apparent for some time that Judge Taft's newspaper articles, which were intended to be the reflections of a mature statesman, have been read into a cheap political propaganda. He ought to be ashamed of himself for the statement that law and order have not been maintained in Ohio. I would like to have him tell me the instances in which he would have used troops where I did not.

"I challenge him to cite the opinion of a single member of the supreme court of Ohio, no matter what his politics might be, in support of his absurd accusation. I have no objection to Judge Taft's becoming a water carrier around the Old Guard political camp. A great many people, however, in our state, who have respected him throughout, cannot but look with regret upon the ease with which reactionary politicians still make use of him."

Application of the League of Nations argument to western problems was stressed by Gov. Cox in addresses yesterday morning at Mesa and Tempe. As a result of the league, the governor said, would assist in opening up the European market to cotton and livestock, which the west produces. There were two definite conspiracies in the senate, the candidate declared. One was to prevent approval of the League of Nations covenant and the other to prevent reduction of war taxation. Both were for the purpose of creating unrest and feeling against the administration, he asserted.

PROTEST CITY PAYING FOR MACSWINEY CABLE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Democrat Lloyd and Attorney Charles H. McIntyre, acting for the loyal coalition, called on Mayor Peters yesterday afternoon to prevent payment by the city to City Clerk James Donovan of the $2450 spent by the city council in cabling Premier Lloyd George relative to the MacSwiney case.

"They left with the mayor, who spoke with them a few minutes, a formal statement rehearsing the coalition's objection to the council action, and urged him to get an opinion from Corporation Counsel Hill in the matter. This he will doubtless do.

Mr. Hill told newspapermen that, if the mayor declines to prevent payment, any 10 citizens may file an equity bill under chapter 23, section 100, revised laws of 1902, which also may possibly get some action along the line the coalition wants.

DECISION ON NATIONWIDE
STRIKE TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Decision relative to a nation-wide strike of miners was expected when the executive committee of the Miners' Federation, the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Workers' union met here today.

The representatives of these unions—the "triple alliance" of labor—considered the reply of Premier Lloyd George to representatives of the alliance during an interview yesterday, which did not see them meet the demands of the miners for an increase in wages and a reduction in the price of coal.

Mr. Lloyd George proposed that the matter of wages be submitted to an impartial tribunal for adjudication, and that the miners work out with the owners of mines a system by which they might augment their wages by increasing production.

Statements made by union leaders have indicated they have reached a conclusion that the miners had proved they are entitled to a wage advance, and that the railwaymen and transport workers will heartily support a strike.

Local Fuel Problem
Continued

The state house in Boston of an advisory committee to the state fuel administrator appointed by Governor Coolidge yesterday. At this meeting the shortage conditions are being canvassed and it is hoped that some line of action may be settled upon that will reassure the section an adequate supply of fuel.

In the opinion of coal dealers the supply of fuel in Lowell is about 25 per cent. short of what it should be at the present time. The shortage is a stove coal of which there is only a limited supply. Egg coal, suitable for furnace use, is more plentiful.

Coal has recently been arriving in the city at the rate of about five carloads a day. This is equal to about 350 tons, and would be fully adequate for the city's normal needs if it were not for the fact that many dealers have a large accumulation of undilled orders on hand. In some cases coal that is now being delivered was ordered last June. One dealer said today that a year ago at this time he had about 7000 tons of coal on hand, but that since then there is less than 300 tons in his bin.

One of the leading dealers stated today that people who buy their coal in large quantities were likely to be reasonably well supplied with fuel for the winter, but that purchasers who purchase in small lots were likely to feel the pinch before the cold weather is over.

As an offset to the pessimism of local dealers comes a statement from the National Coal association that if householders will refrain from attempting to fill their bins at the present time but will be satisfied to order only enough to tide them over until December, the situation will work out without deprivation to any one.

It is stated that there is now an abundant supply of soft coal for industrial use in Lowell, and that the outlook is promising for an adequate quantity during the winter.

Chamber of Commerce Presi-

There has been a noticeable falling-off in the number of riders on the cars of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway in the Lowell district since the new fare schedule went into effect a week ago, according to a statement made yesterday by Ward R. Leavitt, superintendent of transportation. Mr. Leavitt also stated that 47 employees had been dropped from the Middlesex repair shop force, and that it was probable that a number of conductors would be laid off in the near future. He said that the company was not considering the discharge of any motormen at present. Mr. Leavitt described the decrease in the number of patrons to the fact that a number of people who formerly used transfers were now making part of their journeys on foot. He said that no statistics were yet available to show the actual decrease in patronage or the effect of the changed fare schedule upon the revenues of the road.

sells; the statement of George F. Wells, a member of the home rule committee, that the committee, in his opinion, has no value, together with the resignation of Frank Ricard, a member of the committee, served as sparks to open up a magazine of discussion on the street railway fare situation today. A commonly asked question was, "Why if fares can be kept down in Fall River, can't it be done in Lowell as the result of some activity of the chamber of commerce and the home rule committee, as it is alleged, was done in Massachusetts other spindly cities?"

Home Rule Committee
There were indications that the general discussion of the fare problem had galvanized the home rule committee into taking action. Notices, sent out by John B. Curtin, chairman, were received by members of the committee today calling upon them to assemble in the city hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the consideration of important business.

The fare situation was also the subject of conferences and discussion yesterday afternoon and this morning at the rooms of the chamber of commerce, and it was announced that the matter would be one of the principal subjects for consideration at the next meeting of the board of directors.

It was announced that a letter had been dispatched to Secretary Ketchum, of the Fall River chamber of commerce, asking for a detailed statement of conditions in that city particularly as regards the part that had been played by the chamber in holding down the price of fares. President W. N. Goodell, of the local chamber, in discussing the fare problem expressed the opinion that railway trustees could improve conditions by giving more adequate service and attempting to encourage short-haul riding by the adoption of lower fares in the centre of the city. "I would suggest," he said, "that the company cut out the use of all tickets in the centre of the city, and charge a straight five-cent fare, without transfers. The profit for the company, as for any other concern, must come from the volume of its business. The trustees, it seems to me, in the past have acted in such a way as to decrease rather than add to the patronage of the road. I believe that they could carry five passengers at a five-cent fare where they find it difficult to get two now at a ten or seven-cent fare."

Short-Haul Passengers

"It would seem as though the profit of the company must come from the carrying of short-haul passengers. At the present time the road makes the short-haul travelers pay for the transportation of those who ride longer distances. Many people who now walk from place to place in the centre of the city would, I believe, ride if they could do so for a reasonable fare."

If the plan suggested by Mr. Goodell were adopted it would be possible for a person to ride from any thickly settled portion of the city to Merrimack square for a nickel. It is known that in other cities the establishment of central city zones with low fares has proved satisfactory to car-riders and profitable to the street railway companies.

Mr. Goodell stated that when John

Wannamaker found himself with business falling off and profits disappearing, he did not boost his prices as a means of remedying conditions, but on the contrary found it good business to reduce prices on his whole stock nearly 20 per cent and make his profit from the increased volume of sales. He said that he thought the board of public trustees had acted in raising fares without giving as full consideration to the matter as might have been desirable.

"The road at present," continued Mr. Goodell, "seems to be adding on Lowell a part of the cost of maintaining a lot of lines that are not profitable."

According to a statement made at the chamber the railway company trustees allotted to the Lowell district $24,000 interest charges for the month of June. It has not been easy to ascertain whether or not this charge represents interest on the bonds of the road, dividends on stock, or interest on the appraised value of the property. It is said that a request for information on the subject, made to a representative of the road, met with the statement that the official had no knowledge regarding the matter.

According to the latest figures on file at the chamber the street railway property has a valuation fixed by the public service commission in 1916, with certain additions made later of $11,170,000 on which the annual interest charges for the whole system, at six per cent, would amount to $2,470,000 a year.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatrical Press Agents)

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Dorothy Gish gets a lot of whole-some fun out of her role of a little grand duchess with a yard-long list of titles in "Little Miss Rebellious," the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today. Her role is new and unconventional. A host of comedy situations liven the film, including a session with a balky mule, a baseball game in which the duchess plays with American doughboys, a jazz ball and other scenes of interest. Other good things of the current program include more pictures of the K. of C. pilgrimage to the Vatican, an O. Henry story, a Metro comedy, with Rogers' Hilarious Digest and a Burton Holmes travel picture.

THE STRAND

California forms the background for "A Gold Coin," the stirring story by Z. H. Van Loan, in which Tom Mix will be presented at The Strand, the winning with matinee today. In this production a western town is built in its entirety in order that the story could be filmed in correct detail. The town is called Four Corners and contains everything from the village store to the town hall. The story concerns the underhanded activities of a pair of oil land crooks who try to get away with their loot, but are frustrated by the happy-go-lucky cow puncher, played by Tom Mix. As Mix plays two roles, one of which is the hero and the other the "bad man," it is safe to predict that his "daredevil try" will be out of the ordinary. One of the most effective scenes is said to be that showing Mix dropping from the high flagpole when the rope is pierced by a bullet from the sheriff's revolver. Mix alights on the horse of "Bad Pat Duncan," the bandit, and Tom raps the criminal behind the ear, knocking him out, and then rides away. In the supporting cast are Margaret Loomis, Margaret Cullington, Sylvia Jocelyn, Frank Whilson and others.

The greatest picture of Sessue Hayakawa's career, is the way "Li Ting" is labelled by those who have seen this Japanese star in all of his screen triumphs. It's to be the other feature on the bill for the week-end. It's a powerful drama of love, revenge and intrigue, with the masterly Japanese actor as the Chinese prince who loved an American girl and saved her life and honor when he could not win her hand. The usual comedy and weekly will also be shown.

OPERA HOUSE

If you enjoy interesting characterizations then don't miss the week's play at the Opera House that is being presented by the Lowell players. It is called "32 East" and it's one of Rachel Crother's most amusing and interesting comedy dramas. The whole three acts, practically, are given over to reflection of life and characters that are real and human. Nothing overdrawn, and little or no efforts at dramatic heights. It has a love romance that is simple but delightful, and a cast of characters that are just picked out of the life we all know. It is capably staged and the general supervision of it by Director Jack Bennett praiseworthy.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A show that is 100 per cent. entertaining is the one which is on review during anniversary week, at the B. F. Keith theatre. Seldom, if ever, have three acts of positive headline quality been seen on the same bill in this city, yet that is the popular verdict of the current week. Homer E. Ma-har and Marguerite Keeler in "Oh! My Darling" have first place in one of the most diverting of farces, while Lydia Barry, the delightful comedienne in songs, is always welcome in this city. George Lane and Tom Moran in "Listen, Mickey" are likewise topnotchers when it comes to making good fun. These men are nothing if not entertaining. John S. Blundy and brother are wonderful acrobats, and Elkins, Fay & Elkins, put over a juggling act that is very lively. Hazel Moran, the girl with the lariat, opens this big bill.

THE RIALTO

With the exception of the Mary Pickford First National production, "Heart of the Hills," which will play the remainder of the week, the Rialto announces a complete change of added attractions beginning today, chief among which is Charlie Chaplin in "The Adventurer." A thrilling sentimental novelty is also offered, entitled "Modern Centaurs," which you do not want to miss. In addition, there is an episode of "The Hawks Trail," with Elving Esgard, and a Fox news film. The straw baloot is still being taken. Don't forget to vote.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER

Discovery of Pest in Canada Causes Department of Agriculture to Send Staff of Entomologists to Michigan
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Discovery of the European corn borer in the vicinity of St. Thomas, Canada, has caused the department of agriculture to send a staff of entomologists to Michigan, to confer with local authorities to forestall possible infestation of the corn crop in that state. Experts of the bureau of entomology are concerned over the appearance of the pest in Canada. Certain sections of New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania already have been quarantined to keep the insect from making its way to the corn belt. The corn borer in Canada is farther west than heretofore reported on this continent and the corn affected is of the flint variety, which in New England and New York has appeared to be especially susceptible to injury by the borer. Every ton of sea water contains one grain of gold; at this rate there are 50,000,000,000 tons of gold in the sea.

PICKPOCKET SENTENCED

Noted Pickpocket Arrested Here Sentenced Today—Officer Complimented

Michael J. Casey, a noted pickpocket with several aliases and a long police record, who was arrested in the city last July, charged with the larceny of $400 from the Stevens Trust, a resident of Lowell, was this morning sentenced to not less than 2½ years and not more than 3½ years in the state prison, by Justice Cox at the criminal session of the superior court, after being found guilty by a jury.

Casey was arrested on a train leaving Lowell for Montreal by Inspector Walsh after being charged with the larceny of his roll. Before leaving the train in the custody of the officer, Casey dropped the money, which was picked up by a woman and turned over to Conductor Leslie B. McKay. After sentence was imposed this morning District Attorney Tufts complimented Inspector Walsh for his fine police work in arresting Casey, whom he referred to as a noted pickpocket.

WE and WILLIAM

OUR recent Admonition regarding the wisdom of putting away one's Will in the Maker's own Safety Deposit Box, seems to have exerted no force or influence on the mind of Ex-Kaiser William Hohenzollern, who we learn has quite recently written a new Will and has entrusted it to the keeping of Notary Schrott at Amerongen.

This is not the first vital mistake William has made, in fact somehow or another we don't seem to hitch up together in ideas a little bit. The worst of it all is, William, that you are setting a bad example to others. A Box containing that Will would have cost you but $5 the year at

State Commission Limits Supply for Domestic Use to Relieve Shortage

Until Further Notice Householders Will be Allowed Only Three Tons of Coal

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Rationing of hard coal for domestic use was ordered today as a means of relieving the scarcity which exists in all parts of the state.

Eugene C. Hullman, chairman of the state commission on the necessities of life, after a conference with a committee of five coal dealers appointed by Governor C. D. Warren, announced that until further notice householders would be allowed only three tons of coal.

"Dealers," he added, "would be ordered to deliver no coal to anyone known to have on hand a one month's supply."

This action was taken after consultation with the governor to whom reports had come from many places that dealers' stocks were low and householders' bins empty. The committee of dealers was directed to consider the question of securing a supply sufficient to protect the people of the state against the winter months.

The shortage, Governor Coolidge said today, is due largely to the "vacation" taken by the miners and to the fact that with report of a shortage in the air for several months, people with ample means had laid in large supplies.

LOCAL FUEL SITUATION

Dealers Say Lowell's Coal Supply is About 25 Per Cent Short

The nipping air of the last few mornings has caused many citizens to cast anxious glances at their coal bins and wonder whether they are to have enough fuel to keep their homes reasonably warm during the winter. The situation in the state as a whole is known to be critical. In a number of cities and towns dealers are down to the point of scraping their bins in an effort to make some attempt to fill orders that are piling up on them, and in one or two places it is known that not a pound of coal is now in dealer's hands.

CONGRESSMAN FULLER MEETS MR. DUNBAR

Yesterday's Boston papers reported Frank E. Dunbar, Esq., as having been present at a meeting at Marblehead at which Senator Washburn spoke in his own behalf as an independent candidate for lieutenant governor against Congressman Fuller. Mr. Dunbar was present as a beach neighbor rather than a supporter of Washburn, of whom, however, he speaks very highly.

Mr. Dunbar returned to Lowell from the beach today, and on leaving his office at noon, who should be bump into Mr. Fuller. The latter, of course, wanted to see Mr. Dunbar in regard to his candidacy and although the Lowell man did not intimate the nature of Mr. Fuller's visit, it is understood that the congressman is very much concerned over the attitude of Mr. Dunbar and would be pleased to have him keep neutral in the Fuller-Washburn fight. Those who know Mr. Dunbar, however, can realize that he has made no pledges that would restrict his freedom of action in the future.

BAKER NOT TO BE A CANDIDATE

PITTSFIELD, Sept. 23.—Attorney J. Arthur Baker today announced that he will not be an independent candidate for secretary of state. Mr. Baker announced his candidacy several days ago. He was a candidate for the republican nomination but failed to get his name on the ticket.

ATTEMPT TO FIX BASEBALL GAME

Herzog of Chicago Cubs Accused of Offering Bribe to Benton to "Throw" Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Direct evidence of an attempt to fix a game between the Chicago National League team and the New York Giants was expected today when Jacob (Rube) Benton, pitcher of the Giants, appeared before the Cook county grand jury investigating reports of major league baseball gambling. He is said to have been offered $800 by a former Cub player to "throw" a game.

Charles "Buck" Herzog, second baseman of the Chicago Cubs admitted in a statement today that he had been accused of offering an $800 bribe to Benton to "throw" a game and declared that President Heydler of the National league and President William Veeck of the Cubs knew that he was accused because he knew it himself. He said that they did not want to give him a hearing, fearing publicity.

Herzog denied that he had ever been involved in an attempt to "throw" a game, and produced affidavits by Arthur E. Wilson and Norman Doekel of the Boston Braves, declaring that they heard Benton say he had won $3800 by betting on Cincinnati in the world series contests last year with the White Sox.

The affidavits as announced said that Benton gave Hal Chase as author of the "tip" to bet on the Reds.

In a statement issued after yesterday's session of the grand jury Harry Repplogie, prosecutor in charge of the investigation, declared that evidence had been presented to the effect that last year's world series were "not on the square." He said that seven Chicago players were involved but that no Cincinnati players were implicated.

Repplogie said that players who were expected to testify before the grand jury today were Charles A. Stoneham, president and John McGraw, vice president and manager of the New York Giants; John Seys, secretary of the Cubs; Ray Schalk, White Sox catcher, Barry McCormick, umpire; Samuel W. Bass, a Cincinnati writer; Joseph Vito and Will Busche, baseball writers; and William Birch, former baseball writer.

In addition to the affidavits, Herzog produced a letter from President Heydler in which the latter stated he was convinced that Herzog did not have any connection with gambling in baseball. This letter was dated June 25, after Heydler, according to Herzog, had thrashed the matter out with Benton and Herzog, finally declaring that the whole thing should be dropped and kept quiet.

HARDING'S STAND ON IRELAND

"Not a Question for Official America," Says G. O. P. Presidential Nominee

MARTIN, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Declaring that the Irish problem is "not a question for official America," Senator Harding said in a statement today that in his opinion the movement for Irish independence would be under the League of Nations a subject entirely "internal or domestic."

Without referring directly to demonstration promises to bring the Irish question to the attention of the league, Senator Harding said that America already had "meddled abroad excessively without invitation," and asserted that official consideration by this government was quite another thing from an expression of sympathy.

Announcement of Reduction in the Price of Their Cotton Goods

By the Amoskeag Mills is Discussed by Local Mill Men

Drop in Price Big Surprise—Its Effect Here Rather Uncertain

The announcement printed in yesterday's Sun that the Amoskeag Manufacturing company, of Manchester, N. H., owners of what is often described as "the largest textile plant in the world under one roof," has cut its prices 33 per cent, fell like an unexpected bomb in mill circles of Lowell and there was widespread discussion as to what effect the price cut might have upon local industries. Together with the Amoskeag company announcement came a statement from Henry Ford that the price of automobiles manufactured in his plant would be cut in half. Also the announcement was printed in the Wall Street Journal yesterday that the tire fabric industry is greatly overstocked. These announcements were taken as having a possible bearing upon a general cut in prices that might affect the local mills.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

G. O. P. Gubernatorial Nominee Spent $38,000 in Vt.

BARRE, Vt., Sept. 23.—James H. Hennessey, republican nominee for governor of Vermont, spent $38,260 in his primary campaign, outside of his hotel expenses. He did not include hotel expenses because he considered that item should not be reported. On notification from the secretary of state, he will file a supplementary statement.

The largest single item of expenditure in Hennessey's tabulation, was $19,153.80 to the Hays advertising agency of Burlington, which managed his publicity campaign, and the next largest, $10,653.55, to the St. Albans Messenger company, for paper, envelopes, etc.

F. H. Babbitt, one of the three losing candidates filed his expense account today, as $6,912.90. P. E. Abner expenses were $5331.05. C. S. Emery has not filed his statement. Tomorrow is the last day.

Policeman Snatches Bomb With Burning Fuse From Platform of Brooklyn Elevated Station

Chicago Mailing Houses Announce Reductions in Several Lines of Merchandise

Cotton Staples Lead List—Ready-to-Wear Clothing and Shoes Included

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Price reductions of 10 to 20 per cent. in several lines of merchandise were announced today by Sears-Roebuck & Co., and Montgomery, Ward & Co., mail order houses. Cotton staples, such as muslins, cambric, sheetings and poplins, led the list in amount of reductions. Cuts also were made in men's and women's ready-to-wear clothing and shoes.

Recent price reductions of 20 to 25 per cent. announced by textile manufacturers will be reflected in the prices of men's clothing next spring, Eli Strouse, president of the National Clothing Manufacturers' association, declared at the association's convention yesterday. He added that "men's clothing prices cannot go down more quickly than the high cost of labor and materials," and that people must remember that "the cost of textiles is not the only factor entering into clothing prices."

QUICK WORK AVERTS DISASTER

Officer Puts Out Fuse and Takes Bomb to Police Headquarters

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A bomb with a burning fuse was found today on the platform of the Reel avenue elevated station in Brooklyn. A policeman put out the fuse and the bomb was taken to police headquarters. The bureau of combustibles announced the nature of the policeman's discovery.

Investigation into the planting of the bomb was started immediately with detectives examining every inch of the elevated platform. Employees were questioned in an effort to learn if extremists or strikers of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., which operates the line, had made their appearance in the vicinity today.

THREAT TO SHOOT MAYOR PETERS OF BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—A third warning of intended violence within 48 hours, was received by Mayor Peters today. It was contained in a letter signed "Reds" which said: "You will be shot Friday night at 12." The mayor last night issued a proclamation calling upon all citizens to report to the authorities any act or word involving menace to public institutions or officials.

PROVIDENCE BUILDING "MARKED"

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—A postcard message, warning of the demolition of the Turks Head building, a large office building here, tomorrow at midnight, was received by Martin S. Fanning, superintendent of the structure, today. It was signed with the initials "A.W.T.X." and a crude skull and crossbones drawn in front of the signature. The card was mailed in this city. It was delivered to the police, who say they will take every precaution to prevent the destruction of the property.

SALE OF PUTNAM STORE RUMORED

A rumor that the firm of Putnam & Sons Company, men's clothing and furnishing house at the corner of Warren and Central streets, had been sold to a Boston firm could not be substantiated this afternoon because of the absence of Lawyer James Kerwin, in whose hands rests the settlement of the company's affairs. It was announced on September 13 that the company had made an assignment to Lawyer Kerwin for the benefit of its creditors and since that time it has been said that two or three Boston concerns have been considering the purchase of the store and goods. At the time it was stated that the stock-taking would determine the condition of the company and since that time it is understood that a decision to sell has been made.

When no information could be obtained through the office of Lawyer Kerwin, questions asked the store manager and Mr. Frank Putnam, partner, revealed the fact that all business was in the hands of the lawyer and that they did not "know whether the deal was closed or not."

M. MILLERAND IS PRESIDENT

French Premier Elected to Succeed Paul Deschanel, Who Resigned

NEW PRESIDENT HAS LONG BEEN ONE OF FOREMOST FIGURES IN FRENCH POLITICS

VERSAILLES, Sept. 23.—(By Associated Press)—Alexandre Millerand today was elected president of France by the National Assembly, succeeding Paul Deschanel, who resigned because of ill health. Mr. Millerand received 645 votes out of total of 892.

The complete vote was as follows: Alexandre Millerand, 655; Gustave Delory, socialist deputy from Lille, Department Nord, 69; Scatterling, 20.

The election took place in the historic palace of Versailles. The national assembly, comprising the members of the senate and chamber of deputies, was called to order by Leon Bourgeois, the president of the senate. Mr. Millerand received an ovation as he entered the assembly hall a moment after the session began. After his election he was proclaimed by Mr. Bourgeois the 11th president of France.

Alexandre Millerand, who was born in Paris, Feb. 10, 1859, and educated for the bar, has long been one of the foremost figures in the political life of France, his entry into parliament dating back to 1885 and his cabinet experience to 1899, when he became a member of the Waldeck-Rousseau cabinet. His early affiliations were with the radical socialists and he was long known as a labor questioner and has fathered numerous measures for the betterment of the working world, notably the old-age pension act which became operative in 1905.

It was his service during the great war, however, as minister of war, the Viviani cabinet, and his notable conduct of France's foreign policy as the successor of Clemenceau in the premiership after the "tiger's" retirement last January that raised him into pre-eminent eligibility for the presidency and compelled his reluctant consent to quit the premiership and stand as a candidate to succeed President Deschanel.

CAR STOLEN HERE IS RECOVERED

The Buick coupe, 1920 model, the property of the Graton & Knight Manufacturing company of Worcester, which was stolen from Middle street last night between 8 and 9 o'clock, was recovered in Brookline shortly after noon today in the possession of Joseph Blaskell of 43 School street and Charles A. King, 101 Blossom street, both of this city. According to the information given to the local police by the Brookline authorities, one of the boys stole the car and picked up the other afterwards. King is 15 years of age, according to the local police. Sergt. McCloyne was dispatched to Brookline this afternoon to take charge of the boys and return them to the jurisdiction of this court.

Mr. Sturtevant of 58 Huntington street, this city, a salesman for the manufacturing company, who drove the automobile to this city and parked it in Middle street, claims that the theft was committed within the half hour mentioned when he was away on business. There were two dress suit cases and some wearing apparel in the car when stolen.

Stunning Styles, Wonderful Materials, Luxurious Fur Trimming

OUR FALL EXHIBIT OF FASHIONABLE SUITS, WRAPS AND AFTERNOON GOWNS, with the exquisite something in Style and Tailoring that the New York and Parisian designers put into them, makes them exclusively artistic.

This season surpasses our previous exhibits in the assortment of models and in the most wonderful materials we have ever shown.

We have worked harder. We have been more discriminating. We have tried to get more Style, Quality and the most exacting Workmanship for your money than ever before. We await your approval.

WE THINK WE WILL SURPRISE YOU WITH THE COMPLETENESS OF ALL LINES THIS SEASON.

Come in and look at what the most fashionable shops in New York are featuring, and our prices are moderate considering the WONDERFUL CREATIONS WE SHOW.

WOMEN'S NECKWEAR

Autumn Witnesses the Return of Quaint Fichus to Favor

This fact is not at all surprising, for wherever you roam this season frocks with tight little bodices are very much in evidence. They are so dainty and airy, particularly when developed of lace or organdy, that most women are inclined to favor them in preference to other types of Neckwear. In featuring them, however, we have not neglected net, silk and batiste collars, cuffs and vests.

FALL FOOTWEAR OF DOMINATING QUALITY

You will find a very complete stock of Fall Shoes. Every requirement for men, women and children has been anticipated.

IF I ONLY HAD THE RIGHT GLOVES!

You will find many occasions that bring forth just such a wish, unless you see our display and make your selection with due consideration of how gloves will be worn. There are eight, twelve and sixteen button gloves to be worn with the short sleeve frocks; practical gauntlets, mousquetaire gloves of white kid, chamois and fabric, tan gloves, so many different kinds that it is really best to choose several pairs.

NOVELTIES RULE OUR FALL DISPLAY OF HANDBAGS

Both young girls and women are demanding their handbags be novel. Quite a few of our patrons have expressed themselves in favor of the new hand-tooled and embossed handbags. They are most in vogue in envelope styles. Also considered very good are handbags of chiffon velvet in blue, brown and black.

SEE OUR CHARMING NEW HOSIERY FOR FALL

JEWELRY A PLENTY

A visit to this department will surely please you when you see the new Imported Jewelry Novelties as well as many domestic ones on display. They will brighten up your costume.

IN HER SUPREME MOMENTS FASHION DESIGNS CHIC HATS

No one need to wonder if these styles will be becoming, for there are hats for every type of face and figure. Duvelins and velvets are prominent.

CORSETS TO GROOM THE FIGURE FOR THE NEW MODES

New models are here for Fall. Every type of figure can be scientifically corseted here. There is a very wide selection of models, exquisitely fashioned of coutil, broche and batiste.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Lowell Man Fined $100 for Operating Automobile While Intoxicated

Found guilty of drunkenness and of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Louis Alcide Toussaint of this city, was fined $100 in police court this morning before Judge Enright. Defendant entered pleas of guilty on both charges. The drunkenness charge was placed on file. The custom of the local court in such cases in the past has been to give jail sentences, but inasmuch as the higher court has not been sustaining those decisions and has been imposing a $100 fine instead, Judge Enright decided accordingly. The arresting officers testified that defendant drove his machine recklessly through Cabot, Salem, Common streets to Clark street where it stalled in the middle of the street.

Assault and Battery
John J. Hickory, charged with assault and battery upon James Lannon, was fined $25. The defendant admitted striking Lannon and injuring his eye, but according to his testimony the case involved circumstances in which he, defendant, was knocked off a bench by the complainant. The trouble occurred recently near the corner of Wood and White streets. Abraham All and wife were charged with assault and battery upon Louis Nami were each ordered to pay fines of $15. The trouble occurred one night in a court off Cushing street where a crowd of men and women gathered at the home of the All's to force the issue in regard to the payment of some bill. At this time, it is said that Mrs. All sent word for the police. Upon their arrival, the officers found a large crowd in the court and there was trouble brewing. When things had quieted down and the officers turned to go, Mrs. All grabbed a leg of an old chair and attacked one of the men in the crowd, while Abraham All, the police say, armed himself with a stick armored with nails and also attacked the crowd. The officers also say that when they went to interfere, Abraham All attempted to strike them and that they had to use a club to subdue him. Counsel for the complainant produced record to show that All has been before the court before.

Liquor Cases
Two other arrests, resulting from the police campaign in rounding up liquor law violators were arraigned in court this morning, but were put over for trial on September 30. Nicholas Gahares and George Vians, the defendants, were charged with illegal keeping of intoxicating liquor with intent to sell. They were brought in on warrants sworn out by Officer Michael J. O'Neil.

One man called on continuance on a charge of drunkenness and who has been in the Cambridge Jail for the past week by order of the local court "to sober off," had his case placed on file.

Sensation in Mill Circles

were willing to talk with apparent freedom on the situation today, but as is usual with them they requested that their names should not be used for publication.

The agent of one of the mills stated the situation succinctly when he said that the plants manufacturing goods that come into competition with the Ameskeag products will undoubtedly have to make a reduction in the charges for their products. He also said that the cut made by the New Hampshire concern, in his opinion, would be likely to have a depressing effect upon prices as a whole, and that manufacturers might be compelled to cut prices in many lines.

Taking the cotton mills of the city as a whole, it can be said that they are running on old orders, and that few new orders are coming in. It had been hoped earlier in the season that by the latter part of September there would be a development of new business that would assure the continued operation of the plants on full time during the winter. There is still hope that sufficient new orders will show up to prevent curtailment, a considerable portion of the mills are running very nearly to their full capacity. Others have been gradually slackening up operations and work is being carried on in a way that would have been considered reasonably brisk previous to the war-time rush.

Some of the mills have cut their forces somewhat in certain departments; the Boot mill now being run at only about 75 per cent. of its capacity.

The Bay State Cotton mills, that are given over to the manufacture of fabrics for auto tires, it can be authoritatively stated, have been hard hit by adverse conditions in the tire industry. There has been a big falling off in orders and the plant is now running only four days a week. About 500 persons are now given employment by the mills. It is admitted that the future operations of the plant are uncertain, but that it is hoped that business will later pick up sufficiently to keep the wheels moving during the fall and winter season.

The American Woolen company announced a cut of approximately 20 per cent. in prices when it began taking orders for goods for next spring and summer a short time ago. Since then, persons who should be in a position to know state, business has not shown up in the proportions that had been expected. At the Bay State mills of the company the plant is now being run only four days a week, and no information is available as to the outlook for the future.

ROME FREED OF CHARGE OF DESERTION

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Philip I. Ramo of Worcester, found guilty of desertion from the army by a court-martial which sentenced him to a year in a military prison, was released by Judge Morton in the federal district court today on the ground that he had never legally been inducted into the service.

Ramo had been assigned a number in the first stages of the draft in 1917, but left for South America on business before he was called. Subsequent orders from his draft board to report for examination went unanswered and when he was arrested on his return to his home several months ago he said he had not received any notice.

The court-martial first decided that Ramo was within its jurisdiction and subject to military trial, then heard the evidence in the case and found him guilty. On a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Morton had the man transferred from military to civil custody, admitting him to $500 bail, and today handed down his decision that he was free.

DANGER OF REVOLUTION IN ITALY PAST

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The danger of a revolution in Italy through a Bolshevik uprising is completely past, in the opinion of French officials. This view is based on favorable reports received in the last few days.

Agreement Reached
LONDON, Sept. 23.—A referendum among the strikers in Turin has resulted in the rejection of the agreement reached in Rome between the employers' representatives and the workers in the metal trades, says a Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph today.

Occupation of the F.I.A.T. Landis and Dubost automobile works, the Ansaldo aviation works and other factories, chiefly textile, will be continued, the despatch says.

Tuesday night Royal Guards were fired on, one being killed and several wounded. Three armed "red guards" were arrested.

At Milan a bomb was exploded on the threshold of the residence of a manufacturer, who was a leader of the opposition to the workers' claims.

In Savona, the metal workers have decided to reject the agreement and maintain their occupation of the plants seized.

After the refusal of a manufacturer

Announcing an Authoritative Showing of Individualized Apparel for Autumn Wear

HER SUIT

For Fall 1920 she will undoubtedly select a suit of either wool velour, silvertone, or duvet de laine. Of course her choice is not necessarily limited to the three materials mentioned above, but these are the most favored. (Colors, by the way, are brown and navy blue.)

Handsome things every one of them, gorgeously burdened with a wealth of embroidery, lavish fur trimmings, huge collars and cuffs.

Suits, are after all, the evolution of our modern demand for the practical and many a one remembers the reason for being and adheres to the simplest of tailored suits. Worn with one of the new "choker" furs they are quite the smartest costume.

Women's and Misses' Suits—Second Floor

HER FALL COAT

Bolivia, evora, wool velour and duvetyn, in brown, old blue, navy and variations of tan are the fabrics and colors most favored for the new coats. A warm winter coat is such a comfortable affair with its deep patch pockets, its warm, convertible collar and its general appearance of comfort.

Autumn has given a new impetus to the fashioning of wraps or perhaps it was the luxurious new fabrics which inspired the many delightful versions of the mode.

Coats and Wraps—Second Floor

MY BLUE SERGE, those three words are so familiar. Still, navy blue serge is a dependable sort of material and when made up into a smart one-piece dress it is ideal for street or business wear. At present I am thinking of some striking cloth models which we are displaying. With few exceptions, long sleeves seem to be preferred in dresses of this character. Some beautifully braided and others richly embroidered.

Misses' and Women's Cloth Dresses—Second Floor

"HOWSOEVER LOVE BE BLIND the world at large hath eyes." He may not, but the world will see the smart colored handkerchiefs you wear with your smart autumn suit. A handkerchief is something that should be chosen with great care for by their kerchiefs ye shall know them.

Handkerchiefs—Street Floor

Her Fall Hat

Selecting your new Fall Hat is such a delightful pleasure if you make your selection in our Millinery Shop. (Of course your hair may get slightly mussed.) Here, every woman may discover that for which every woman is seeking—a really becoming hat; a hat that will emphasize one's best points. Soft rich fabrics—duvetyn and velvet chief among them—the equally soft, rich tones startled into vividness here and there with a dash of brilliant coloring. Soft draped effects in close fitting turbans—chic little affairs—and large hats with slightly rolled or flared brims.—Millinery Shop—Second Floor

HER SILK FROCK

With the coming of fall days many social activities which were suspended during the summer have been resumed. Theatres, teas, club meetings, all call for the informal afternoon gown.

For the most part the new silhouette is straight and slender, particularly adapted to the style of the American woman with variations that include harem effects and redingote styles and low waist lines.

Materials are lustrous satin, rich velvets, and soft clinging georgette crepe. Many are handsomely embroidered with self or colored silk, while others are perfectly contented to hold their popularity on their sweet simplicity. A wealth of lovely models to select from.

Women's and Misses' Dresses—Second Floor

HER BLOUSE

As closely related as pen and ink is the autumn blouse and the autumn suit. One MUST have a new blouse if a new fall suit is decided upon. And in our blouse shop on the second floor, next door neighbor to the Suit department, you will find a charming collection. Blouses of georgette, satin, and crepe de chine in suit shades, flesh or white. Any number of becoming models, one prettier than the other.

Then there are any number of lovely hand made blouses all hand drawn, some exquisitely embroidered, others trimmed with real flet.

Blouse Shop—Second Floor

Autumn marks the most glorious season of the year. The season when nature arrays herself in her most gorgeous raiment. When the trees change their cool green garments and bedeck themselves in beautiful autumn hues. What is more natural than, that woman should yearn to throw off summer apparel and clothe herself in new fall things.

Our store, anticipating the needs of our customers, has prepared an Autumn Exposition of authentic apparel modes. In tailoring, in texture, in design, they measure up to the standard of "Chalifoux" excellence.

WHAT WOULD YOU THINK of an architect who drew plans for a house and totally disregarded the cellar—the foundation of the house? You would be amazed that he was so negligent as to even think of such a thing. You are the architect drawing up your plans for your winter wardrobe. Are you going to forget the corset, the very foundation of your wardrobe?

In our corset shop experienced corsetiers, carefully fit corsets to your figure. Bandeaux, Brassieres and Corsets.

AS FIRM AS THE LAWS OF THE MEDES AND PERSIANS is the law decreed to women that they shall wear silk stockings. Lisle may serve very well for work, but for dress up occasions it must be stockings of silk. Intricacy of allover design, lace insets, clever clocks or drop stitch effects are added to the beauty of fine silk. Black and brown are here in a wide range of sizes and styles.

Hosiery Department—Street Floor

A SMART LITTLE VEIL to keep one's hair in order and also to give the finishing touch to the costume. A properly adjusted veil gives an air of good grooming to the ensemble, whether it is worn trig and close or floating.

A SPANISH COMB attil in one's hair surrounds one with an air redolent of the land of soul eyed señoritas and romance in general and for party wear is delightful.

Please consider this advertisement a very cordial invitation to visit our store and inspect the new Fall styles. We will be very glad to have you.

SAYS LEGION INSURANCE POLICY FOR NATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Franklin D'Oiler, national commander of the American Legion, who has taken charge of arrangements for the annual convention of the legion here on Sept. 27, 28 and 29, described yesterday impressions he had received from talking with thousands of members of the legion in a four months' tour of the country.

"At least 80 per cent. of the legion members favor the four fold bonus compensation act," he said. "Members in only two of the states visited opposed it."

"There is among legion men throughout the country a wonderful spirit of tolerance and reasonableness, a desire for fair play and for national progress without going to extremes either of radicalism or reaction."

"After this convention the American Legion will be understood more clearly than ever before as a real factor in American affairs. The legion today is an insurance policy for the nation."

DEMAND FOR ROOMS

There has been a great demand for rooms during the past few weeks with the result that the dormitory rooms at the Y.M.C.A. are all filled and there is a long waiting list of applicants. Many of the applicants are students at the Lowell Textile school and there are also a number of men engaged in business throughout the city. Mr. Fred B. Hopkins has come to the association in the capacity of dormitory secretary. Mr. Hopkins comes from Mayfield, Rhode Island, having been for many years in the employ of the American Woolen company.

Happy Gets Canned

Mrs. Field Mouse looked in horrified amazement at her husband, Munchie, calmly eating his soup. How could he, when his own son was crying with an injured cry? Particularly when Flop had almost told them that Mr. Scribble-Scratch, the furry schoolmaster, was the cause of it. Of course, he didn't just say so, exactly, but—cracker. "Flop, how come you can't get your spelling? I met Mike Mole and he says Muff got a hundred on his spelling paper today."

"Oh, he didn't at all!" denied Flop stoutly. "He didn't get a hundred any more than I did."

"I must have made a mistake then," went on Munchie. "It was his number—"

"I SHOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN BY ALLOWING THIS AWFUL TREATMENT OF YOUR SON," SCREAMED MRS. MOUSE.

well, he let them think so anyway. How did he know that Nick, the attendance officer at the Meadow Grove school, had seen his father and made a report that morning about him and Muffy Mole playing truant?

"Mr. Mouse, I should like to know what you mean by allowing this awful treatment of your own son," screamed Mrs. Mouse. "Do you intend to let that dreadful fairyman go without a word?"

"Oh, no, I guess not," answered Munchie, quietly reaching for a paper I guess."

"He didn't either!" denied Flop. "He didn't know how to do the earthworm problem any more than I did. All he could do was to eat. He ate worms until I thought he'd burst (Flop said bust). The storm brought 'em up and Muff didn't have to hunt at all. They seemed to be hunting for him instead. And he wouldn't move an inch and I couldn't get out of the hole and—" He stopped suddenly, realizing that he had let the cat out of the bag.

"Why, Flop Field Mouse!" cried his mother in surprise and dropping him off her lap. "Munch, go get a birch-rod at once!"

Director Jeyes to Establish Group Classes in Physical Training—New Plan for Winter Program

As an innovation on the program of the Boys' club activities this fall and winter, Major Walter Jeyes, director, will establish group classes in physical training. Heretofore, the formation of group classes for this purpose has been impossible because of the large number of boys using the club at all times. But Major Jeyes will plan the classes so that they will, at different times, include the majority of the attendants of the club and will not interfere to any great extent with the sports of the youngsters who desire the use of the club rooms. At any time in the past when physical training classes were started results were not satisfactory, but Major Jeyes expects good returns this winter.

In the winter of 1918 and 1917 physical classes were started and in the season of 1917 and 1918 the work was continued but with no great results. It is the idea of Major Jeyes to give the physical training in an original way so that it will not be tedious and tiresome for the boys.

Besides this special feature, the regular activities for which there is opportunity at the club will be carried out. Some new apparatus has been added to the club's equipment so that boy visitors now have the use of well equipped play rooms which include tables, bowling tables, gymnasium swings and exercisers, handballs, boxing gloves, hockey apparatus, basketballs and many other articles of play.

High School Seniors and Juniors Must Take Course in American History and Civics

Every junior and senior attending the local high school must re-arrange his school program so as to take a course in American history and civics. If he has not already completed such, in order to receive a diploma. This is in accordance with a ruling recently passed by the state legislature and became effective in all high schools of the state with the opening of schools this year.

There are many students at the local high school entering upon their last year with the intentions of entering college and who this year are busily engaged in completing other required subjects for college entrance, who must either wait another year before entering college in order to take this course, or take it as an extra this year. For students of the second and third year the ruling does not present such difficulties because they can arrange their studies during the coming years to meet the situation.

For those students of the third and fourth years who have not completed a course in American history and who cannot drop any one of the studies they are now taking, special arrangements will be made, if possible, according to Principal Harris. He suggested the possibility this morning of a history course in the afternoon or during the freshman hour in the morning which is before the opening of school for the pupils of the second, third and fourth year.

Jayson Smith, commissioner of education for the state, has requested that colleges award credit for courses in American history as well as for Greek and Roman history or Ancient history as has been the custom in the past.

The fact that the ruling became effective immediately upon its passage and did not offer any time for preparation has caused much of the confusion in the rearrangement of courses, according to a local high school official.

Mayor Lunn Declares Mass Governor Landed League Covenant When President Brought It Home

ONEONTA, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts was linked yesterday by Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady, with other publicans as having landed the League of Nations covenant when President Wilson brought it back from France.

Speaking at the Oneonta fair in behalf of the democratic ticket, Mayor Lunn quoted Governor Coolidge as having said in a speech at Boston welcoming President Wilson on his return from overseas:

"We welcome him with a reception more marked than even that which was accorded General George Washington; more united than could have been given at any time during his life to President Abraham Lincoln."

"We welcome him as the representative of a great people, as a great statesman, as one to whom we have the past."

intrusted our destiny, and one whom we assure we will support in the future in working out the destiny, as Massachusetts has supported him in statesman, as one to whom we have the past."

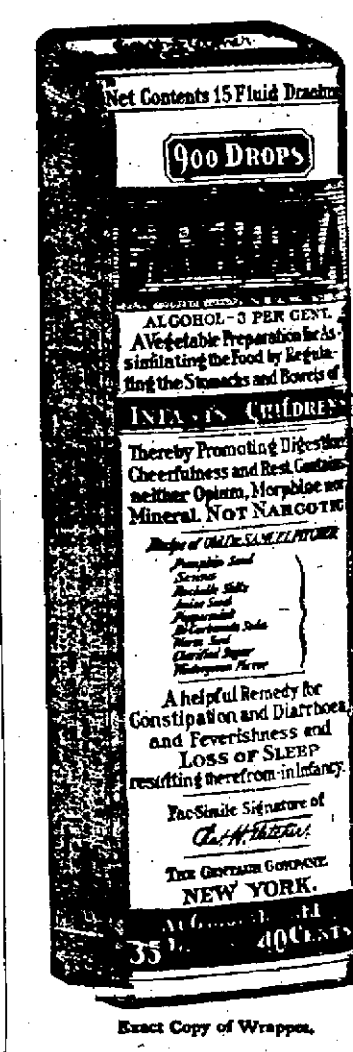

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, toothbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

The Last Corn

When you end your corn with Blue-jay, it will be the last corn you let grow. You will know how to stop the pain. And how to quickly and completely end all corns.

There are millions who use Blue-jay now, and they never let a corn remain.

The new-day way

Blue-jay is the new-day way, the scientific method.

It was perfected in a laboratory world-famed for its surgical dressings.

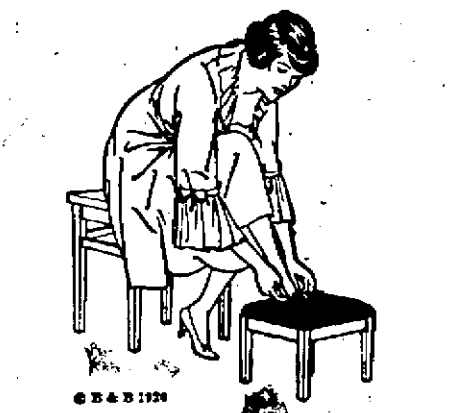

It is supplanting the many treatments which are harsh and inefficient.

It has made paring as ridiculous as it is unsafe, for paring doesn't end corns.

Do this tonight:

Apply to a corn a Blue-jay plaster or liquid Blue-jay—whichever you prefer.

Mark how the pain stops. Then wait a little and the corn will loosen and come out.

What that corn does all corns will do. Some 20 million corns a year are ended in this way.

Don't suffer corns. Don't have your feet disfigured. They can be ended almost as easily as a dirt-spot on your face. They are just as incurable.

Don't forget this. It means too much to you.

Ask your druggist for Blue-jay.

(The Modern Beauty)

There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 to 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone. Mix fresh as wanted.—Adv.

BLAME TAXES FOR H. C. L.

Cotton Men Say System of Federal Taxation Creates "Intolerable Situation"

MAPLEWOOD, N. H., Sept. 23.—The present system of federal taxation was declared to have created an "intolerable situation" by speakers at the opening session today of the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. Suggested substitutes included an employers' privilege tax, outlined by Theodore H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, of New York, and a gross sales tax, explained by William E. Cornwell of New York.

Whole System Wrong

The people of the country, Mr. Cornwell said, are becoming educated to the fact that the whole system of taxation in the United States is wrong, adding that the system "was founded on class and sectional bias."

"The present method of taxation is wastefully destructive," Mr. Cornwell continued, "but it is only during the past year so that the public has become alive to the fact. Today a vast number of people of all classes, not only bankers and business heads, but those in the rank and file of all occupations, are impressed. This widespread knowledge is mainly due to the fact that the public is beginning to see that prices are kept high in many articles because of the present excessive taxes."

Two important sources of the country's progress are being dried up by operation of the excess profits tax and the heavy surtaxes on incomes, the speaker said. These sources were surplus capital and intelligent enterprise.

"As to the first," he continued, "the high taxes are driving people with large incomes to invest as much as possible in tax exempt securities instead of furnishing capital for new business and general commercial and financial development."

"And as to the second, extra profits in business are being appropriated by the government instead of being used to strengthen business concerns and to provide against losses in lean periods which are bound to come."

Requirements of Good System

The requirements of a good tax system, Mr. Cornwell said, were: That it be fair to all, that the burden be universally distributed, and that the collection be simple and easy instead of being complicated and irritating.

"A tax on gross sales" is an ideal development of these requirements," he said. "It is passed along in very small fractions and add through the various processes from the producer of raw material to stage after stage during manufacture, the tax almost collecting itself, accumulating automatically as it proceeds, and is finally paid by the consumer practically without his knowledge, and the additions are so trifling as not materially to affect prices."

Mr. Price in his address declared that the present surtaxes penalize success and compel the enterprising man to pay the government an immoderate share of his gains in a profitable year, leaving him to bear the losses of an unprofitable year alone.

Explaining the employers' privilege tax which he proposed as a substitute for the present system, Mr. Price said in part:

"By and large, the great mass of things that mankind consumes are the product of work, on the farm and in the mines, factories and offices. Therefore, if the labor cost of these things was taxed, we should approximate an equitably distributed consumption tax and if it were supplemented by a reasonable income tax plus moderate surtaxes, we would, it seems to me, be coming about as near as we can get to a painless and fairly apportioned tax."

"A manufacturer or merchant whose disbursement for wages, salaries or piecework totaled $100,000 would at the end of the month send a statement to Washington with a check for the amount of his tax. If the tax were 5 per cent, his check would be $5,000, which he would include in his overhead charges and add to the selling price of his product."

"The price paid by the manufacturer of an entirely finished or marketable product for the raw or partially finished material that he used would have been correspondingly increased by the employers' privilege tax paid upon the wages paid to those employed in its production and thus the price at which the article was sold for consumption would include all the employers' privilege taxes that it had to bear in its progress from the first producer to the ultimate buyer."

TWO HELD IN DEATH OF ROGERS CHILD

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Charles H. Rodgers, a negro, and Santo Zanghi were under arrest today as suspicious persons in connection with the death of Rogers' six-year-old stepdaughter, Dorothy, who was found unconscious on the ground in the rear of an East Lenox street house on Tuesday morning and died shortly afterward. The men were arrested late last night and denied that they knew anything concerning the child's death. When she was found, it was supposed she had fallen from the roof.

Rodgers told the police he had not lived with his wife for some time and had not seen her or the child for four months. He admitted that on Monday night he was in Blackstone park, where Mrs. Rodgers had previously said the little girl left her to buy some ice cream and disappeared.

Zanghi, a roomer at the East Lenox street house, said he never saw the child until she was found on Tuesday morning.

SCHUMANN-HEINK

Holds Public-Drive Says Success in Due to Fact She Loves and Respects Audiences

One of the famous colleagues recently said to Ernestine Schumann-Heink: "Tell me, what are your tricks, that you hold on to your public so?" "Tricks!" answered Mme. Schumann-Heink—and one could feel the scorn in the word as she told of the circumstances—"I have no tricks! I only sing my songs, and love and respect my audience!"

"Yes, that is the secret of my success," said Mme. Schumann-Heink. "I keep faith with my audiences, I sing my songs as well as I can, and don't try to fool my public. One place where I was going to sing the local manager wanted me to get there a day ahead of the concert and give out some interviews to the newspapers to aid in publicity. But this I would not do, hold my public, then no amount of sensational advertising will do it."

"What of the young girl who would prepare herself for a career?" was asked of Mme. Schumann-Heink. "First of all," she replied, "she should not rush to the great cities to the often 'so-called' famous teachers. She should remain at home, if possible, and do her preliminary study, or should she have no good teacher in her little village—should she live there—she should remain in the smallest cities, where the best and most ambitious teachers of real voices work are often to be found. She is not to think only of New York, but will find in the smaller centres many earnest and capable teachers, who will display utmost fairness. There are dozens, yes, literally hundreds of fake teachers in New York, as in any other metropolis, who advertise big, take the student's money and teach nothing!—while at home, the poor parents are struggling and sacrificing that the girl may have lessons. I would say to a talented girl, who never lie, and always criticize kindly. With a good voice, good teaching and plenty of hope and courage there may almost always be a future."

Many are the titles that have been used to describe the incomparable Schumann-Heink throughout her distinguished career, but perhaps none is more indicative of the human side of the great artist than that of "good sport." Under any and all circumstances, madame is a good sport. The life of an artist on tour—particularly when one sings in a different city, no such trifling inconveniences as traveling in day coaches because the Pullmans are cut off—of finding that the best suite in the local hotel is a favor.

lie playground of little gray mice—in short, to quote the words of Schumann-Heink herself—"the hotels, meals, rooms and beer are all fierce, can hardly eat or sleep—in fact, all can do is sing." Of this last statement there is no doubt, judging by the press eulogies that follow her every triumphant appearance. A sense of humor that never deserts her is in evidence in a recent letter to her manager, telling of her difficulties which she ends with, "And so it goes, but otherwise, so far we are still alive, and then showing her spirit of fun a still further she draws a caricature of herself at the bottom of the page and labels it Schumann-Heink "the beauty."

A well-known New Yorker writes: "While visiting in historic old Plymouth (Mass.) my family became acquainted with your Dr. True's Elixir. It does all you claim for it in aiding digestion and relieving insomnia and constipation. Please ship me six large bottles for mother is in need of it."

Thousands need to aid digestion and relieve constipation—take Dr. True's Elixir and know what a good laxative and worm expeller is. Symptoms of Worms: Constipation, deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with pains, pale face, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose and rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

If you have any of these symptoms, banish them for good by taking DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR. Over 65 years on the market.—Adv.

TO HELP NATURE SHED

A BAD COMPLEXION

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the rejuvenating qualities of ordinary mercerized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm or inconvenience. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, freckled or blotchy surface skin, gently and gradually. This is Nature's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of defective circulation or nerve tone, mercerized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one—healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercerized wax, get an ounce of it at the drugstore, use nights like cold cream, washing it off mornings—and have the surprise of your life!

Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint of witch hazel. This is remarkable and almost instantaneously effective.—Adv.

SOCIALISTS ATTEMPTED TO INVADE CHURCH

ROME, Sept. 23.—The Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ, says that Tuesday night the socialists attempted to invade a church in a popular quarter, but did not succeed in breaking through the door. They postponed the undertaking to a later date, when, the paper asserts, they will attempt to occupy the Lateran palace, which was once the residence of the popes.

The Osservatore Romano recalls that the Lateran palace is among the properties granted to the pope by the law of guarantees of 1871, establishing the status of the pontiff in Rome, and that therefore the palace enjoys the privilege of extra-territoriality.

The newspaper expresses the hope that the authorities will intervene in time "to prevent a handful of desperadoes committing an act which could be tolerated only in a Bolshevik regime."

The Osservatore Romano also asserts that socialists are threatening to invade the Catholic club and two nunneries.

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 23.—A warning to parents, calling their attention to the provisions of the school attendance law was issued today by the state department of labor and industries.

Under the law referred to, every child must be kept in school, while the schools are in session, unless a working certificate has been issued for such child.

It matters not whether the child is employed in a manufacturing or other establishment or at its home, some sort of permit must be obtained from the superintendent of schools if the parents are not to subject themselves to the penalties of the law.

Before obtaining a working certificate, the child must present to the superintendent "a certificate signed by a school or family physician appointed by the school committee, stating that the child has been thoroughly examined by said physician and in his opinion is in sufficiently sound health and physically able to perform the work which the child intends to do."

The department declares that the issuance of these health certificates has not been surrounded, in the past, with proper safeguards. "An investigation of this subject," it says, "discloses the fact that in a great many cases certificates are signed without any examination being made, and that in many other cases the examination is so superficial as to be valueless."

"The issuing of health certificates to children entering industry should, in every community, be under the supervision of any physician designated for the purpose by the local school committee or the board of health. The reason for this is that it is only by placing the responsibility with a definite authority that uniform standards can be secured and maintained."

"It is the examining physician's duty to decide from the examination he makes whether the child is in sufficient sound health to perform the work elected by him. The purpose of this requirement for health certificates is to safeguard the child entering industry, to shut out from industry children with such serious defects as to make their employment in occupation dangerous and to protect children with minor defects from entering occupations or processes for which they are physically unsuited. A child with tubercular tendencies, for example, should not be certified for work in a cotton mill, nor one with a weak heart for work which would require lifting heavy weights, or running up and down stairs. A child with defective vision should not be permitted to engage in work involving eye strain."

"The object of the law is defeated unless the examination of the child is definitely related to the work he desires to enter. Examining physicians should acquaint themselves with the general nature of the occupations which children in their district enter."

RESTAURANTS MUST CUT PRICES OR FACE JURY

BUFFALO, Sept. 23.—"Either reduce prices to the 1919 scale or prepare to face a federal grand jury," is the substance of the ultimatum laid down yesterday to H. E. Mettler, manager of the two Childs restaurants in Buffalo by District Attorney Stephen T. Lockwood. Mr. Mettler, answering a summons from the district attorney's office, was confronted by a mass of data and statistics gathered by the department of justice at Mr. Lockwood's request. The investigation has been in progress several weeks, Mr. Lockwood asserts.

"Our investigations have shown that cost prices to restaurants are back to the 1919 schedule," said Mr. Lockwood, "and there should be a sweeping reduction in the prices charged in Buffalo restaurants." Mr. Mettler when asked to produce figures and data to show that the two restaurants here were not profiteering, was unable to do so. He declared to the district attorney that such records and statistics were kept in the New York office and were unavailable.

Mr. Lockwood said that the figures would be sent for at once. "We are taking nothing for granted in this matter," he said, "and when the figures are before us we will go over them carefully."

Following the conference between Mr. Mettler and District Attorney Lockwood, the latter, in response to a question as to what action would be taken should Mr. Mettler refuse to cut prices, replied: "Then we will see what the federal grand jury has to say about it."

Mr. Lockwood also said: "I am convinced that the Childs people here can do business on the 1919 schedule and still make the business pay a fair margin of profit."

Mr. Mettler signified his intention of assisting the district attorney in any way possible, but added that he was handicapped on account of the buying and bookkeeping system being kept in New York city.

Mr. Lockwood said that the ultimatum laid down to the Childs restaurants would also apply to other Buffalo restaurants which are now being investigated.

STRONG APPEALS FOR MacSWINEY

DUBLIN, Sept. 22.—Mr. Wm. Sears, M.P., at a monster open air meeting at Preston, said the English repudiated the sham courts which tried Nurse Cavell and Capt. Fryatt; and, according to the same argument, the trial of the lord mayor of Cork was no trial.

His case was infinitely stronger, as he was acting for his own country, the whole opinion of which was behind him. The outrage was only part of the policy of wrong and insult which Mr. Lloyd George admitted had ground baited of British rule into the very blood of the Irish race. Mr. Sean Milleiro also spoke.

"The horror felt throughout England at the callous treatment of Mr. MacSwiney," says the Daily Herald, "is proved by the number of resolutions passed daily by public bodies, trade councils, trade union executives, lodges of ex-servicemen, and other organizations."

Canon Ring, presiding at a protest meeting in St. George's hall, London, said freedom was a glorious thing—in Poland, but not in Ireland. If the workmen of England meant what they cheered for Mr. Lloyd George would be shoved out, and if the lord mayor of Cork died the conscience, intelligence and judgment of all the nations would decide against England.

Canada

A Reuter cablegram states that a message from Toronto says that Mr. Lloyd George was a glorious thing—in Poland, but not in Ireland. If the workmen of England meant what they cheered for Mr. Lloyd George would be shoved out, and if the lord mayor of Cork died the conscience, intelligence and judgment of all the nations would decide against England.

SHE GAINS 20 POUNDS SAYS HOLYOKE MAN

Mrs. Knapp Only Weighed 94 Pounds When She Began Taking Tanlac—Now Weighs 114, and Says She Never Felt Better in Her Life

"I have just finished my fifth bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. E. L. Knapp, a highly esteemed resident of 135 Dartmouth St., Holyoke, Mass., in an interview, a few days ago.

"No one will ever know just how much I have suffered from indigestion during the past three years because I just can't fully describe it."

"My food just seemed to lie like lead in the pit of my stomach and the gas from it would press on my heart with such force as to almost cut off my breath, and my heart would beat so fast that it frightened me."

"My stomach was feverish and so crampy at times I could hardly stand it. I had to refrain from eating the things I like best, as they were like poison to me, and confine myself to a diet of toast, buttermilk and the very lightest of foods, and even these hurt me."

"My appetite left me entirely—I simply had to force myself to eat—and my stomach was so upset that even the smell of things cooking nauseated me. I suffered from constipation and had awful headaches. I felt so tired and achy all the time that it was an effort for me to get around at all."

"My nerves were so shattered that I would get all upset over almost nothing and my sleep was so restless that it seemed to do me no good. My color was sallow and unhealthy looking and my friends, as well as myself, were uneasy about my condition."

"But I have undergone such a wonderful change since I began taking Tanlac that those who used to sympathize with me are now talking about how well I look."

"When I first began taking it I only weighed ninety-four pounds and I now weigh one hundred and fourteen. My stomach seems in the best condition it ever was and my color is just fine. I can eat just anything now and everything seems to agree with me perfectly for I never have a touch of indigestion."

"Why, I can even eat a hearty supper and go right to bed and sleep all night as sound as a child. That tired feeling, the headaches, and all my pains are gone. To put it in a few words, I don't believe I have ever felt better in all my life. After getting such wonderful results myself I could not do otherwise than tell others about Tanlac. I will praise it the longest day I live."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

NEW YORK PHYSICIAN TELLS WHY MORE ORGANIC PHOSPHATE MEANS MORE NERVE VITALITY

The Nerves, the Blood, the Bones of Over 40% of American Men and Women Need Organic Phosphat and Need It Badly

A Vigorous Healthy Body and Keen Active Mind Belongs to Those Who Have Plenty of It.

When will weak, played-out, thin, puny and ambitious people learn that there is nothing much the matter with them and that all they need is a few grains of the right kind of phosphate every day for a few weeks to make them as energetic, vigorous and forceful as of old?

Every month, thousands of people are learning that lack of sufficient nerve vitality is the underlying cause of many diseases.

Your nerves control your body and without an abundant supply of nerve force life is worry, fear and disappointment.

Phosphorus is one of the vital elements of every living cell in your body and there are millions of them. Nature's way is to supply phosphorus to these cells with the food, you eat in the form of phosphates.

But to millions of people modern foods do not supply enough organic phosphorus so there you are.

And just for the lack of this same organic phosphate which every drugist sells under the name of Biltrite-Phosphate 40 per cent. and over of the men and women of America are today crying in the wilderness for health and strength and a chance to live a cheerful, vigorous, happy life.

"Nerve weakness, both physical and mental, is indeed a curse to the nations," says a well-known New York physician.

"Feed your nerves the food that makes nerve force; that helps to rebuild every run-down, starving cell in your body."

I had my way Biltrite-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor in the land," says Frederick M. Kelle, M.D., Editor-in-Chief of Physicians' "Who's Who," a nationally known author of medical text books and a brilliant physician.

Later on, Dr. Kelle says: "It is not difficult to detect women who have plenty of nerve vitality; nerves that are rich in organic phosphate" (this is equally true of men); "the women are usually cheerful, magnetic and pleasing; they have youth and vigor at 50 and even 60 years and are bubbling over with vitality. You don't find them pale, weak, nervous or haggard looking at 40 or complaining of this or that ailment."

Every day thousands of men and women who are losing their youth before their time; whose mental and physical powers are so limited that total discouragement is near, are learning that Biltrite-Phosphate a simple organic phosphate that A. W. Dows and every druggist dispenses, is all they need to re-establish nerve vitality, strength and keenness of mind.

TO INCREASE COAL SUPPLY FOR STATE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The appointment of five coal dealers to act as advisory committee to the state fuel administrator, Eugene C. Hullman, was announced by Governor Brewster yesterday, in an effort to insure sufficient anthracite coal supply for the state during the coming winter.

The members of the committee are William A. Clark of Boston, president of the Massachusetts Coal Dealers association; Wallace Phinney of Boston, City Fuel Co.; Edward Hamlin, Boston, Metropolitan Coal Co.; Elmer A. Fackard, Brockton, and George Pickering of Salem.

Henry F. Long, the governor's secretary, said that the governor had received letters from all parts of the state appealing for assistance in obtaining coal and that the situation was serious. The committee will meet today at the state house.

Coal For All

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—All wants of coal consumers, big and little, will be adequately met before winter sets in, the National Coal Association declared last night in a review of the coal situation throughout the country.

The statement said:

"Householders need not feel it necessary to fill their bins with the entire winter's supply at this time. By taking only enough coal now to tide them over to December first the entire situation will work out with no great privation to any one."

Reviewing the New England situation, the association declared that the suspension of the priority shipment order of the interstate commerce commission in the coal supply of that territory and it was added that the six million and a half tons yet required there would be handled in the ordinary way.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The official count of the votes cast in the recent statewide primaries, announced by the office of the secretary of state yesterday, show that in the republican contest for the nomination for lieutenant governor, Congressman Alvan T. Fuller's lead over Speaker Joseph E. Walsh of the house, his nearest opponent, was 832.

Frederic W. Cook of Somerville is given a plurality for the republican nomination for secretary of state of 17,329, and in the contest for the republican nomination for State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, the present incumbent, had a margin of $9,541 over Walter P. Babb, his only opponent.

The official figures give James Jackson, the sticker candidate, a lead over Fred J. Ireland for the republican nomination for state treasurer of 69,097.

James Jackson, the sticker candidate for state treasurer, received votes for every office on the state ticket and for congressman, county commissioner and sheriff. Not less than 1000 votes for Jackson had to be counted among the other candidates, because of the failure of the voters on these issues to give Mr. Jackson's residence.

The official figures for the candidates on the democratic and republican state tickets are as follows:

LOWELL MINISTER TO
TAKE THE STUMP

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—The Rev. G. C. Wright, minister of the Lowell Free church, has volunteered to go on the stump for church and country this fall, according to an announcement made today by the speakers' bureau of the Unitarian campaign. Mr. Wright's name appears on a list of speakers which includes about one-third of the active Unitarian ministers of the United States and Canada who have been recruited for service.

Ernest G. Adams, a Boston business man who is chairman of the Unitarian campaign committee, said the announcement, "has stated that Godliness must be manifested in the voting booth as a means toward the creation of true democracy in the United States. He has determined, therefore, that Unitarian speakers shall take the stump during the coming political campaign and co-operate by emphasizing those moral issues which must receive the support of voters of all parties if the structure of the republic is not to decay and go the way of old world dynasties which have abandoned the practice of true Christianity."

HARDING SENTIMENT

Wanes in California—Chester
Rowell Tells Why

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Anti-Harding sentiment is growing rapidly in California.

Chester H. Rowell, editor of the Fresno Republican, one of the most influential newspapers in the state, has come out bluntly against Harding. Rowell two years ago was republican state chairman and in 1916 was on the Hughes national campaign committee of 16.

William Kent, former congressman, just defeated for the republican nomination for senator, is against Harding. Kent has not made a public statement for Rowell has, but it is practically a foregone conclusion that before November he will publicly bolt the republican party.

Line Up for Phelan
Both Rowell and Kent also favor Senator Phelan for re-election, though Phelan is a democrat. This is also true of Fremont Older, famous California editor. The latter's bolt is all the more significant since he is now editor of The Call, a Hearst paper.

It is not at all unlikely that Older, a bosom friend of Rowell, will follow the Fresno leader's action in bolting Harding.

The attitude of these three men, who have a powerful influence and big followings, is typical of the attitude of California on the national election. There is an enormous independent class of voters, many of whom apparently are against the Harding personality and platform.

"Cox can give over this independent vote, which is necessary to enable him to carry California," said Rowell. "By continuing to show to Californians an outstanding personality and a definiteness of stand on issues."

Rowell is a strong League of Nations advocate. He believes Cox will gain many thousands of votes here on that issue.

"Women in California are very strong for the league," Rowell said. "I believe the majority of women will vote for Cox. Churches here are in politics and the church people also are league advocates. I do not believe the church people and the dries will be alienated from Cox by the wet bogey, especially since Cox's Portland speech."

Rowell set all California laughing by his ridicule of Harding, capped by the public statement that rather than vote for Harding he would cast his ballot for Sun Yat-sen. "Harding doesn't know what the League of Nations is all about," said Rowell. "He doesn't even know what the Root plan is, though he is espousing it. He told Hoover he was for the league and he told Hiram Johnson he was against it."

Party Labels Not Popular
"Anything can happen in California in a national election," continued Rowell. "Witness 1916 when Hughes lost the state by 3000 and Johnson won it by 297,000. For years Republicans or democrats have captured congressional nominations on both tickets. There are few democrats in San Diego, yet a democrat represents San Diego in congress."

"Californians are so independent in political thought that they don't care a rap for party labels. That is going to be demonstrated in November. It will cause surprise, though mathematically California by registration and proportional estimation, has a potential republican majority of 330,000. It would be folly to say Harding will get those votes."

MELROSE PROTESTS
FARE INCREASE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Melrose city officials and prominent citizens, including Mayor Adams and members of the Millier club, protested yesterday to the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company against the increased car fares on that system.

They entered their objections to the installation of two zones within the limits of Melrose, insisting that it is exorbitant to charge a 50-cent fare for a ride of only a mile or two. It was claimed by the delegation that factories are suffering from the higher fares as employees living in other towns are quitting their jobs rather than pay more money to ride on the cars.

In a letter received from R. H. Sherman he stated that his factory has been affected since the new fare schedule went into effect, a number of the employees living in other places than Melrose having resigned and gone elsewhere.

TO REPAIR BUILDING
At a recent meeting of the Father Mathew Total Abstinence society of North Billerica plans were discussed to raise money for the purpose of meeting the expense of repairs that are being contemplated on the building of the organization and the following committee was appointed to assist the board of trustees in this work: James Condon, Carroll J. Delehan and T. F. Sheridan.

WARNING PROCLAMATION

Mayor Peters of Boston Urges Residents to Take Every Precaution to Prevent Another Bomb Disaster

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Mayor Peters last night issued an official proclamation requesting that residents of this city take every precaution to prevent a duplication of the Wall street bomb explosion here.

The mayor said in part: "The terrible catastrophe which occurred in New York a few days ago, caused by anarchists, should warn the people of Boston to take every precaution to prevent a similar occurrence in our city."

"Every necessary step to safeguard the lives of our citizens and property of our city has been taken by the authorities."

"The recent threats of violence on the lives of our citizens and the destruction of property of our city point out clearly the necessity of strict vigilance in the safeguarding of our American institutions."

He asked that every citizen "assume the responsibility of protecting the lives of his fellow citizens and property of our city in this crisis," and report to the police authorities any suspicious movement on the part of any man or group of men "who seek to crush our government by violence."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
A busy program for the fall and winter has been planned by the members of the Arvenis class of the Calvary Baptist church. At a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Merrill, 37 Walker street, plans were discussed and after the business meeting a social and entertainment was held. Refreshments were served and Mrs. Hazel Bertha, Mrs. Mattie Dillon and Mrs. Bertha Kew assisted the hostess.

Concentrated ink comes in tubes like tooth paste and is squeezed out a drop at a time.

LAYING A GHOST

Sound upon the tucket, beat upon the drum. A world, wearied with attempts to digest an over-supply of political issues, can now rest peacefully at night.

Sometime ago the campaign publicity agents gave out the news that Governor Coolidge had gone into the kitchen and, to assist his wife, had engaged in the humble, if useful, task of fashioning dough around holes and dropping it into sizzling fat. Our esteemed contemporary across the street immediately conceived that a mighty doughnut issue had been thrust before the world. Might not this be an attempt of the enemy to queer the governor with a multitude of male voters lacking a fondness for messing their hands up with sticky dough? If so, might not Harding and Coolidge be defeated and the nation continue to go to the dogs as, in the opinion of good republicans, it always does when the democrats are in power? The truth must be learned at all hazards, evidently concluded our neighbor. At any rate it got into communication with Mrs. Coolidge, whether by personal visit, telephone or letter it is not stated. Now it says it has learned "from no less a source than the governor's lady herself that not only were there no doughnuts made on that day, but that to the best of her knowledge and belief she has never made any." That ought to be explicit enough. "The doughnut," our contemporary assures its anxious readers, "thus ceases to be an issue in the campaign."

The ghost is therefore laid. The doughnut issue has been swallowed.

THE LONDON TIMES' VIEW

It is rather unusual for the London Times to offer any recognition or sympathy to the Irish patriots who show a willingness to lay down their lives for the cause of Irish freedom; but that great moulder of public opinion in England offers some salutary advice to the government in reference to its policy towards Mayor MacSwiney of Cork and the treatment of Sinn Féin leaders in general.

When the heart of the Times is touched, the circumstances must be very unusual, and this is undoubtedly a fact, for not since the case of Sir Thomas More has there been one that will shine in history as that of Mayor MacSwiney, whose hunger strike is a protest against his arrest and imprisonment by an alien government whose right or assumed authority in Ireland, he does not recognize.

The following statement from the Times undoubtedly represents the common-sense of the British public:

"Because behind all its excesses in violence and all its crudeness in ideal, we have recognized in the new Irish movement the traces of self-sacrificing and fearless devotion, our condemnation of it has often been qualified. The government have, on the other hand, acted as though Sinn Féin were a purely criminal organization and Sinn Féiners necessarily criminals."

"We have expressed unhesitatingly and with grave emphasis our profound disapproval of the course which the government are following. We have indicated another, which, in our opinion, would compromise neither the national honor nor even such reputation for strength as the government possess. We can do no more."

If the line of policy here suggested by the Times were followed, the Irish question would soon be settled and peace, not ruinous war, would reign throughout the land. But Carson says "no!" and he is still the dictator of the coalition ministry. Not even King George exercises a little of the influence wielded by "King" Carson. This is all the more deplorable because Carson's whole being is devoted to religious bigotry and intolerance. He is originally responsible for all this trouble in Ireland; but former Premier Asquith and the present premier, Lloyd George, must share with Carson the blame for all the warfare, all the loss of life and destruction of property that has occurred in Ireland since 1915. It all came as a result of Carson's opposition to home rule and the cowardice of weak-kneed Asquith in saying in 1914 that it is unthinkable to coerce Ulster into casting her fate with the rest of Ireland.

SAVING POWER OF EDUCATION

In its wisdom, the legislature of Massachusetts has enacted a law providing for the setting-up of schools in industrial plants for instruction of the employees in English and elementary subjects. These schools, the statute provides, are to be under the control of the school authorities of cities and towns, which shall pay for the employment of teachers, while the owners of the industrial plants are to furnish quarters free of expense.

An effort apparently is to be made to have schools of this sort introduced into Lowell. That the success of the movement can lead to delay is hardly believable. As the state is to pay half of the expense of maintaining such schools, unless the city adopts the plan it will be paying for the carrying on of the schools in other cities and towns without receiving any benefit itself.

That the establishment of such schools would be welcomed by the managers of most, if not all, of the city's leading industrial plants, would seem to be quite certain. The recent bomb outrage in New York city has called attention to forces of destruction that are menacing to an extent not generally realized. The leaders who plan such outrages, and ready ground for sowing seeds of their dangerous propaganda among the ignorant who, in many cases, are not able to speak the English language.

The best safeguard against Bolshevism, communists, anarchists, and all the other "reds" who would destroy society, is education as to right and duty—education that will give men and women from foreign shores a wider knowledge of our institutions and teach them to think straight. The owners of industrial plants place fire insurance upon their buildings. Fully as necessary a form of insurance can be provided by assuring the fullest and freest opportunities for education for the workers in the plants.

WASHBURN-FULLER FIGHT
Senator Washburn of Worcester has belated the republican ticket and has come out as an independent candidate for lieutenant governor against Congressman Fuller, the regular party nominee.

He assails Fuller unmercifully as unfit for the office, an enemy of the party and a man who deceived the voters by false charges. He is to challenge Fuller and the democratic nominee to joint debates, perhaps knowing that they will not advertise him to the extent of meeting him in such a public manner.

We surmise, however, that Mr. Fuller will not run away from Washburn or any other man on the stump in this campaign. A humorous phase of the situation is, that Channing Cox, the nominee for governor, has already come out and stated that he would be proud to have Fuller for his running mate on the ticket. Washburn praises Cox but assails Fuller unmercifully.

He charges the latter with being an inveterate opponent of Senator Lodge and ex-Governor Crane and the friends of both these leaders are to be offered up against Fuller.

The Boston Herald, naturally trying to discount the democratic candidate, claims that Fuller will receive democratic votes that will put him ahead of his ticket and that Washburn will have little consideration. There is here a splendid opportunity to elect Mr. O'Leary or some other candidate, should O'Leary retire, as has been suggested, on account of his enemies within his own party.

In some quarters it is hinted that Senator Lodge will come out against Fuller on account of his attitude on the League of Nations; but the senator is too regular to come out and oppose a nomination made by popular vote. He does not want to draw down upon his hoary head the wrath of such a vigorous fighter as Fuller.

EXPELLING SOCIALISTS

Still the New York assembly persists in its decision to expel the socialist members, even after the party to which the socialists belong had modified its platform to meet the objections of the assembly men. It is quite apparent that in the present case at least the assembly has made a grave blunder. The socialists will probably be re-elected with larger majorities.

Henry Ford leads the way in fixing lower prices for his various lines of automobiles. That will doubtless cause an increase in the sales of his cars, but it is a reduction in the price of other automobiles. It is well to find Henry Ford leading the way back to normal conditions.

Pittsburg restaurant keepers, having admitted that they were making 40 per cent profit on most dishes, have agreed to reduce prices rather than face prosecution. It isn't safe, though, for restaurant patrons nearer home to conclude that this straw indicates the blowing of a favorable wind in their direction.

Brigadier General William J. Nicholson thinks that the perpetrator of the Wall street bomb outrage should be "killed like a snake." Even the most venomous snake that ever crawled the earth would be entitled to greater mercy.

There is doubtless something to be said in favor of giving widespread circulation to some of the communist literature that is being issued as a means of demonstrating what a silly travesty on common sense the whole absurd scheme of communism is.

A clergyman says that one of the surest ways to achieve success is to expect it, but the man who takes his place on the wharf and waits in expectation for his ship to arrive laden with good fortune is likely to spend a lot of time waiting.

It would have been very nearly a miracle if officeholders at city hall had expressed disapproval of the present character of the commission hearing and not many miracles are happening this year.

Young Theodore Roosevelt says that the democratic vice presidential candidate "does not have the brand of our family." Perhaps he has reason to be glad that this is true. The brand may have changed.

Kaiser Wilhelm, presenting a hospital to a Dutch city, probably doesn't realize how many people there have been who would have liked to see him inside of one with his name on the dangerous list.

The unpleasant experience of another Lowell girl who accepted an invitation for an auto ride from strangers, adds one more warning of a dangerous practice for fathers and mothers to tread.

It would be well for police officials to take notice that the sending of letters through the mails threatening to blow up people or buildings is becoming altogether too common an occupation.

SEEN AND HEARD

Even the striking of a match makes a New York banker jump these days.

It isn't much of a nation that hasn't a crisis of some sort.

Talk is to take the stump for Harding. Is he too heavy for that front porch?

Some people believe that half of one percent refers to enforcement and not content.

Do members of the municipal council agree with Barrow that "God designs a charitable intercourse should be maintained among men, mutually pleasant and beneficial?"

Ed Holster of the Boston Globe has a pear tree, but he says the globe has a mortgage on it. Some kind friend advises him to keep a dog, but owing to the high cost of dog meat Ed allows that he'll let the tree do its own barking.

Black Foxi Where?

About now be prepared to hear predictions of various blackwoods weather prophets that we are to have a long, cold, hard, unseasonable and disagreeable winter, because a black fox walked backward in a chain of bushes, and a wild goose refused to lay an egg on the edge of a lake, and that a trapper had reduced the price of loaves for city visitors—Brooklyn Standard Union.

Small Town Jax

"Trucks bring in 200 to 300 cases of whiskey," says flaring headline to "run runners" story in Boston paper. Doesn't take much to get a big head line on the "booze" story nowadays. When everything was open and the sky was the limit two or three hundred cases wouldn't represent even a small town "jax."

The Garage Home

The garage home is one answer to the rent problem. A small payment down gets a good building lot, often large enough for garden, berries and chickens. The buyer builds a neat double garage at a cost of a few hundred dollars, divides it with temporary partitions into two or three rooms, puts in the plumbing fixtures he intends to use later in a house, moves in and laughs at landlords. Having started thus on the road to home ownership, the garage-residence is an incentive to economies. The quicker the first little debt is paid off, the sooner will the desired modern residence on the front of the lot be a reality. The idea is a good one and allotment firms are likely to quickly take it up and put on the market whole sub-divisions with garages erected, ready for occupancy until the day when the house can be built.

Marvellous Matilda

Blue are the eyes of Matilda.
Blue as the sky;
Blue is the mood of Matilda—
Would you know why?

Gerald made love to Matilda.
Shy as a fawn;
Wanted to marry Matilda;
Now he is gone.

Gerald could offer Matilda
Houses and cash;
Gerald looked up to Matilda;
Soon came the crash.

Bessy was blue-eyed Matilda,
So said her folk;
Gerald was told by Matilda;
"Please do not smoke."

Gerald is calling on Matilda,
Gerald and good;
Fits the blue-eyed Matilda;
Blue is her mood.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It is very likely a relic of our primitive days that we like to collect things that have little intrinsic value. In modern days postage stamps and old coins offer their inducements for things to be accumulated, and later we may turn our attention to steins or old pipes. Hidden away somewhere most of us doubtless have a store of "collected" articles of some sort.

Traffic Manager W. F. Whitcomb of the chamber of commerce, is camped on the trail of articles relating to the transportation business. A day or two ago he showed me some of his latest acquisitions. One of these is an employee's pass, issued by the "Lowell & Concord railroads," July 14, 1883, and good for passage between Lowell and Nashua. We were both of us somewhat at a loss to know exactly what the "Lowell & Concord railroads" might have been. Years ago there was the Boston & Lowell, The Lowell & Nashua, and the Concord railroads, but memory does not recall that there was ever a corporation bearing the name "Lowell & Concord railroads." Perhaps some old-time railroad man can furnish enlightenment on this subject. The pass states that it is "not good in opposite direction." Years ago a man was put off the train of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad because he attempted to use a ticket in the opposite direction from that set forth on the ticket. He sued the company and obtained substantial damages. Thereafter all New Haven road tickets, until the line was taken over by the government at the commencement of the war, read "good in either direction."

Amusing curiosity in Mr. Whitcomb's collection is a way bill of the Fitchburg railroad, issued July 8, 1918. It calls for the transportation of freight from Charlestown to Townsend Harbor. It is interesting that the charges in those days were about one-third what they are today. It is also interesting to note that the bill was issued by the train conductor.

I am told that there is considerable interest in the forthcoming celebration of Columbus day by the local Knights of Columbus, the most pretentious feature of which will be a grand dinner in the evening for the knights and their ladies. It is a few years now since a celebration of any magnitude was staged in Lowell. Columbus day, chiefly on account of the war and its problems. Hence, the knights are endeavoring to make this year's observance a most creditable affair. In the morning they are to march to St. Peter's church, and in the past are likely to make an impressive show on parade. Grand Knight Brigham looks for an exceptionally large turnout at the parade and at the dinner in the evening. The Knights of Columbus locally are perhaps as strong as anywhere as any council in the east and because of the fact that the abundant reason for anticipating a dignified and creditable observance of their natal day.

COX IN TRAIN WRECK

Candidate's Special Ditched in Arizona—Many Bruised—Cox Unhurt

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Gov. Cox's presidential campaign train was wrecked about 4:30 o'clock yesterday 14 miles north of here, while en route to Prescott, Ariz.

The democratic presidential candidate and his party were severely shaken when a locomotive and four cars of the special train were ditched, but all escaped serious injury.

The most seriously injured was Charles A. Nichols, engineer, of Prescott, who had a leg broken in jumping from his cab when his locomotive toppled over.

Spreading of the rails was assigned by railroad men as the cause of the wreck, which compelled the governor and his party to return here last night and cancel his evening address at Prescott. His future itinerary also was upset.

Running 40 Miles an Hour
The accident occurred a half-mile out of Pearl, a village on the Santa Fe railroad. After Gov. Cox had delivered several speeches here the train, consisting of six cars and drawn by two heavy locomotives, left here at 1 o'clock.

About a half-hour later, while running at a speed estimated at between 35 and 40 miles an hour, the train jarred suddenly, as if in collision, and then application of the emergency brakes, bumping over broken rails and ties, and the careening of cars, told passengers the story.

The forward cars were ditched, the governor's private car at the rear and the adjoining compartment car of newspapermen, except for its forward truck, remaining on the rails.

A baggage coach jumped the track about 15 feet and turned over on its side. Two passenger coaches and another compartment car behind also

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments, and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Fred Howard has been appointed agent for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they receive no benefit.—Adv.

DON'T STAY RUN DOWN

If you have been indiscreet in eating, living habits, or your system taxed by overwork, and you have become all run down, don't stay that way. It is dangerous, as you are in a condition to take on many other more serious diseases. Build yourself up again by simply taking from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after each meal, and watch how quickly you will regain your normal health again.

People beyond the age of middle life cannot stand what they used to, and have to be more discreet in all of their modes of living. The majority of such people need to take occasionally a good stomach and liver regulator, for it is an indisputable fact that by keeping the liver active and digestive organs cleaned and in proper working order, old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person. To attain this there is no better remedy than SEVEN BARKS, which has for many, many years faithfully and successfully served the public.

If your system gets run-down, take warning, or you will be sorry when it's too late. Take plenty of exercise, fresh air, keep good hours, eat moderately of the right food, and tone up your stomach, liver and kidneys by taking SEVEN BARKS. For sale by druggists, 60 cents per bottle.—Adv.

slipped 10 feet from the track and partly toppled over.
ON Again, On Again

The first locomotive of the double header, Engineer F. C. Sutton of Prescott, left the rails first and then jumped on again, but the second engine toppled over amid a cloud of escaping steam. The tender of the forward locomotive also fell over, while the first passenger coach ran the length of the overturned baggage car and jammed its forward end into the trucks.

All of the passengers in all cars were thrown topsy turvy. Many suffered bruises and cuts from flying glass. In the rush to escape, several women passengers in the coaches were put through broken windows.

Gov. Cox was in the dining room of his private car going over papers with Dr. Robert C. Goldsmith, his assistant on the League of Nations question, when the crash occurred.

Cox Ankle Injured
"What's that?" he shouted, rising to his feet only to be thrown heavily across the car against its wall. Life was shaken up, but rushed out to assist the injured, and, this accomplished, coolly smoked a pipe while waiting for a wrecking train to arrive and take him back to Phoenix.

Of the passengers, including several of the local reception committee of Prescott and Phoenix, Judge E. E. Bollinger of the Mojave county court suffered a bruised leg. Several others had cuts and bruises and torn clothing. Personal effects of all members of the train were scattered and broken.

Charles Nichols, the engineer, was taken to Phoenix in a passing auto mobile, and first aid was given to several others. Philip Altom, Prescott brakeman, who was alone in the baggage car when it turned over, suffered scalp lacerations. The fireman on the second engine was unable to jump and crawled from the wreckage without a scratch.

Delay Saved Candidate
That Gov. Cox escaped injury was due, it was said, to delay in a conference with the Prescott reception committee. J. J. Slinnot, representing the democratic national committee on the campaign trip, and Chairman Norris of the Prescott committee, were en route to the private car to get the governor to go forward to the first coach, where the reception committee was riding, when the crash came. Most of those bruised or cut were in the forward coach.

The railroad track was torn up for a distance of from 300 to 400 feet, with bent rails, broken ties and glass scattered about, even in an adjacent cotton field.

Railroad officials were unanimous in declaring that a spreading rail under the two heavy locomotives and unusually heavy street equipment caused the wreck. The line is not a main artery, but a branch of the Santa Fe system, and the rails, it is said, were not of the heaviest type.

Rumor was current among the farm people and others who gathered soon after the wreck that a man had been seen running along the road beside the train.

LAWRENCE LADY IS PLEASED WITH VITALITAS RESULTS

"Nothing So Wonderful as Vitalitas for Rheumatism and Indigestion." Says Mrs. Haeberle, Who Resides at 179 Spruce Street, Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. Haeberle says: "It seems like a wonderful miracle to be able to eat what I desire without fear of after-effects. For years I have had rheumatism and stomach disorders and could find little or no relief in medicine. I finally tried Vitalitas. It has helped me wonderfully. It certainly does the work and I can recommend it to all. My rheumatism is about all gone and my stomach troubles have vanished."

It is no longer a secret that the American public is simply tired of buying patent medicines, filled full of "poisonous" drugs and chemicals. Days past, this kind of medicine did a thriving business, but today we are living in a different age. People are beginning to wake up, and realize that nature furnishes the greatest cure for many ills. The reason why Vitalitas is gaining world-wide recognition is because it is a product from nature containing nothing but free minerals from Mother Earth.

A word to thin, delicate people—people who need building up and people who suffer from rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness, stomach, kidney or liver ills, start this treatment at once. Get it at Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Square, a Lowell store for Lowell people. You always get what you ask for at Greens.

LONDON PAPER PAYS TRIBUTE TO MACSWINEY

Most of the harsh words concerning the lord mayor of Cork seem to be said in America for some strange reason. Many of the British newspapers and weeklies adopt a tone of frank admiration, even those who are bitterly opposed to an Irish republic. The "let him die" critics here in America might be interested in the following editorial from the New Statesman, the London weekly. This weekly has opposed an Irish republic.

"There has unquestionably been in modern Ireland a strange and moving revival of the sacrificial ideal. The lord mayor of Cork, in the speech in which he accepted office—the speech the delivery of which was one of the chief counsils in the indictment against him—announced to his fellow-countrymen: 'It is not to those who inflict the most suffering, but to those who suffer most, that victory will come.' That is the mood in which thousands of young Irishmen are living today."

"We may differ from the policy of men who speak and act in this way. We may count as sin what they count as virtue. But, in presence of the exalted will to sacrifice, we are aware that the eternal miracle has happened—the miracle of the man who voluntarily gives his life for his people. Mr. Legality may remain indifferent; but the common man cannot remain indifferent."

The track just before the train left the track, but the rumor lacked confirmation and was not credited. By Gov. Cox, members of his party or railroad operatives.

Among prominent local democrats who were on the governor's train to attend the Prescott meeting were United States Senator Henry L. Ashurst and W. L. Barnum, state national committeeman.

ferent. Posterity judges a man less by his sins than by his sacrifice. We are dumb before this triumph over death. We may have honors on Pilate and Caligula while they are alive. But the roll of honor in history is a roll in which the names of the despised and the rejected stand far above theirs. Ultimately, history is the history of heroes—heroes whether on the right side or the wrong—and the hero is best revealed in the presence of death. Every nation, like every church, loves most the men who died for it. Had Joan of Arc not died, we should have been interested in her as an eccentric woman of genius, but we should not have loved her as a thing onsky'd and saluted. The lord mayor of Cork, as he refuses food, whispering, 'I am a soldier,' wins by the courage of his sacrifice many who doubt his ideals. All over Ireland, at any rate, men and women suffer with his sufferings, and, if he dies, will look on him and love him as a martyr. And, even outside Ireland, the poet that is in all men turns to him with passionate understanding.

DRY PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE WOULD QUIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Aaron S. Watkins, prohibition presidential nominee, declared in an address yesterday before the 15th international congress against alcoholism that he would withdraw from the presidential race if a pledge of support for the dry program could be obtained from any one of the other candidates.

"I ask only two things of the other two candidates," Mr. Watkins said. "Whenever one of them pledges himself to enforce the 18th amendment, and enforce the Volstead act, if elected, and to use all of his power and influence to retain them as a part of the nation's law, I will agree to ask our national committee to release me from the ticket."

BLACK AND TANS RAVAGE IRELAND

Reign of Terror in Which Sol-

Destruction of Balbriggan and its Celebrated Hosiery—
People Driven From Beds

The meagre despatches carried by the Associated Press give but a faint idea of the actual state of terrorism now prevalent in Ireland as a result of the fanaticism of the British police known as the "Black and Tans" under the inspiration of Sir Edward Carson and Gen. Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the general staff. The following from a special despatch to the New York World shows that vengeance of the wildest kind is being visited upon the defenceless people:

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Chief Secretary Hamar Greenwood has returned secretly to Dublin Castle, but does not intend to remain long, as he finds the situation there extremely difficult. Governmentally, it is understood, while he has become obsessed, like his predecessor, Gen. MacPherson, with the conviction that the Sinn Féiners plan to wreak personal vengeance upon him, especially if Lord Mayor MacSwiney dies.

Both the military and civil police, it is declared, ignore all attempts to control them by Sir Nevill Macready on the military side and by Under Secretary Sir John Anderson on the civil. When police or military reprisals are committed and either of these officials ask for information respecting the perpetrators of these outrages they are invariably informed by officers on the spot that they are entirely unable to trace them. The result is that up to the present not a single police or military official has been disciplined for any of these acts, and their chiefs in Dublin are afraid to press even for an inquiry lest the answer be a general mutiny.

On the very day on which Macready publishes an interview in the Paris Liberte, defending his administration and making the statement that only two or three cases of reprisal have occurred, a section of Dublin police, proceeding from barracks under Sir Hamar Greenwood's direct personal jurisdiction, shot up the town of Balbriggan, killing at least three, wounding many others and doing hundreds of thousands of dollars damage as reprisal.

It is stated that Under Secretary Anderson has protested vehemently to Sir Hamar Greenwood against the lawlessness of the police but he is powerless to check anything because Greenwood is unwilling to take any drastic action. The intended rearming of Carson's Volunteers with the newest weapons to dragon the Catholics of Ulster also has been strongly opposed by Sir John Anderson, but Greenwood does not listen to the advice of his chief subordinate because this scheme is being run from London by Gen. Sir Henry Wilson, Chief of the general staff, in concert with his Orange colleague, Sir Edward Carson.

Destruction of Balbriggan
DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—The campaign of terrorism by English recruits to the Royal Irish Constabulary, known as the Black and Tans, is leaving a trail of death and destruction over Ireland. Tonight the small industrial town of Balbriggan, twenty-five miles from Dublin, is practically deserted. Refugees are arriving in Dublin by every train, and the town at the time is in possession of the police, infested by looted liquor.

The trouble began last night when Police Inspector Burke, who received notice of promotion yesterday, was shot dead.

With Sergt. Burke, his brother and others, he arrived at Balbriggan in a

UNNATURALLY TIRED

Some men and many women feel tired all the time. This is not natural. Fatigue following work or great exertion is normal but to be constantly tired indicates a diseased condition, usually thin blood. Backache generally accompanies this state of the system.

Such sufferers are usually pale but not necessarily thin. In blonds the transparency of the skin is increased; in brunettes it is decreased and the complexion becomes muddy. The eyelids become a greyish blue.

This condition of thin blood, which doctors call anemia, is a dangerous one if allowed to progress but with proper treatment it may be speedily corrected. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain just the elements needed to build up the blood and restore the lost color and vitality. New energy circulates through the system with the enriched blood, the heart stops its alarming palpitating, color returns to cheeks and lips.

Nothing more is needed except sunlight, good air, proper food and rest. If you do not know exactly what rules to follow in these matters write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free book, "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent postpaid by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

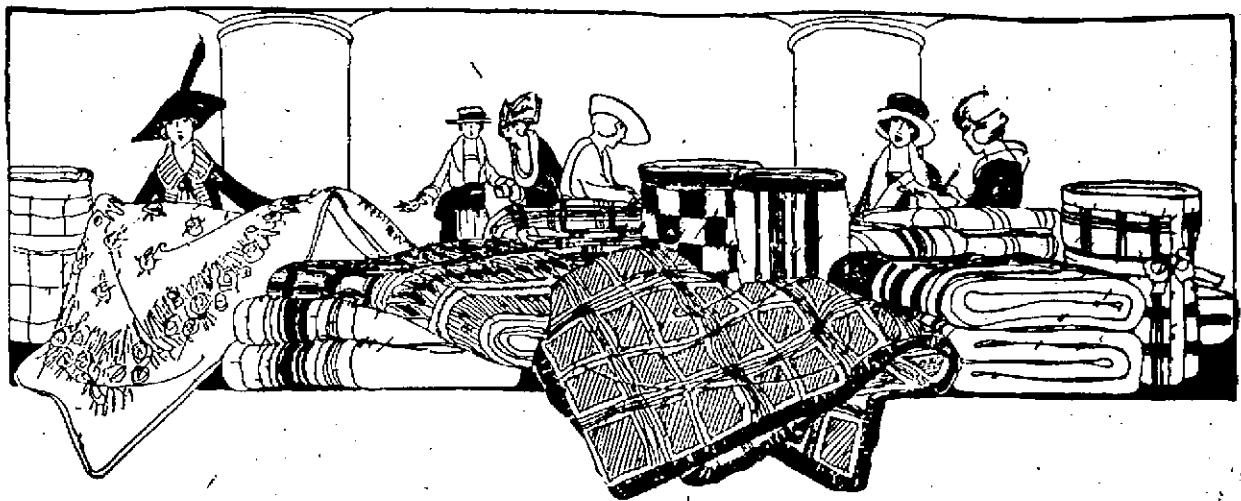

taxicab on a joy ride, remained some hours in a local public house and was shot dead on leaving. His brother was dangerously wounded. Later a large force of auxiliary police arrived in the town and proceeded to wreck, loot and fire licensed premises. Bombing and shooting went on indiscriminately and all suspected Sinn Féiners were driven out of their houses, two men being dragged into the street and bayoneted to death.

The bodies of victims were left lying in the gutter, while their assailants proceeded with their work of firing and destroying the houses. People fled into the streets in night attire, and throughout the early hours of the morning, panic-stricken processions of men, women and children travelled along the country roads seeking refuge in neighboring towns and villages. Thirty houses were burned out, and many were partly wrecked, and the big celebrated hosiery factory known the world over for its Balbriggan hose was destroyed.

A whole row of cottages occupied by working people was set on fire and the families ejected at the point of the bayonet, most of them having to leave in their night clothing. James Lawless, a hairdresser, was dragged out into the street in the presence of his nine children and shot dead, his body

"I can use all three ovens and the broiler—at the same time"

"I've got roast in the coal oven, bread in that gas oven at the left, and now that I've lighted the broiler flame, this right-hand oven will be hot enough for my cake. I couldn't do all this baking with any other stove."

"You'd hardly believe such a small range could have so much oven space—6½ square feet without the racks, or 13 square feet with them. And from end to end my stove measures only forty-three inches!"

"THEN, in addition to the ovens, I can have nine kettles cooking all at once on the top, when I'm using both stoves—four on the coal griddles and five on the gas burners! Think how convenient that is when there's a big dinner to get—or at preserving time."

"Why, last summer I did an unbelievable amount of canning—all in one day—with this wonderful stove. While things that needed long cooking were simmering on the coal stove, I was canning the quickly cooked things on the gas."

"AND it's so nice to be able to use either stove separately. You know there's nothing like gas when you're in a hurry—and there are lots of times when a coal range is so much better."

"I discover new advantages in this Victory Crawford every day—it's come to be one of my most treasured possessions. Wait till you get one in your kitchen. Nothing could persuade you to part with it. It's a wonder."

being holed with bayonets after he fell. John Gibbon, a dairyman, suspected also of Sinn Féin sympathies, was dragged from his home, shot and bayoneted to death in the street.

Families spent the hours of darkness crouching in the fields outside the town waiting for daylight to make their way to neighboring towns.

A deputation of the parish priest, a Protestant rector and two leading townsmen waited officially on Dublin Castle this afternoon appealing for protection and were assured it would be forthcoming. Meanwhile reinforcements of Black and Tans arrived in Balbriggan and drove around the town firing rifles into houses with special attention to known or suspected Sinn Féin residents. This was still proceeding this evening, and residents are fleeing from town.

In Carricken, Shannon and Leitrim last night, uniformed men with their faces masked shot up the town, dragged numbers of people from their beds, exacted oaths from them that the notice boycott would cease, wrecked a number of houses with bombs and generally instituted a reign of terror. This evening's attack on Balbriggan lasted some time, during which the Black and Tans drove round the streets in light lorries, from which they fired rifles and then threw bombs. No casualties were reported as the people had fled. A group went around marking houses with chalk, generally intimating these would share the fate of others already destroyed. The town is practically deserted tonight and no lights are showing anywhere.

NEW CHORUS LEADER
Miss Ruth Olive Halford of Pittsfield was tendered a reception last evening in the Central M. E. church as the new leader of the choir and church social activities. Miss Halford will direct the choir, the formation of a children's and intermediate choir, the presentation of several church pageants and musicals and the neighborhood music school. She received her high school education in Pittsfield, studied music under Prof. Buhler of New York and took vocal lessons from Prof. Anthony Reese. She has been graduated as a deaconess, consecrated by Bishop Hughes, granted the degree of bachelor of religious education, a specialist in music and pageantry, director of music, camp director, playground supervisor. The speakers last evening included Rev. Appleton Granville of St. Anne's church, Rev. J. L. Cairns of St. Paul's M. E., and Rev. Leslie C. Boakes, pastor of the Central M. E. church.

LOWELL MEN LOSE THEIR LICENSES

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 22.—Joseph O. Perry of Lowell has been notified that his license to operate motor vehicles in this state has been revoked by the registrar of motor vehicles, as a result of the accident in which he was involved June 13, and which resulted in the death of Frederick Potline of Lynn.

The registrar has made a thorough investigation of all the circumstances surrounding the accident, and has announced that he is unable to find that it occurred without serious fault on the part of the operator.

Another license, revoked is that of George W. B. White of Lowell, action in his case having been taken because it was found that he was convicted in the Lowell court July 22 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle in such a manner as to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and paid a fine of $20.

In some parts of South Wales, friends and relatives of a deceased person take turns in carrying the coffin to the burial place.

FALL RIVER, Sept. 23.—The Tigers of Providence beat the Gold Bugs of Fall River last night, 6 to 2. POLO NOTES

Bridgeport, with George Hart, brother of "Bob" and Soaks Quigley in the lineup will play Lowell at the Crescent rink Friday night.

Ferdie Harkins in discussing the game the other night said that the opening crowd in Connecticut was very large and enthusiastic indicating a healthy "come back" after a long lay off.

It certainly looked strange to see Harkins in the opponents' lineup the other night. But whether with us or "agts" he's the same clever, clear, aggressive and gentlemanly fellow and all local fans wish him success in his new "home."

Jack Kehoe, who has played in various teams since the formation of the American Roller Polo league, put up one of the best games of his career here with Hartford.

FISH AND GAME CLUB
AT WILLOW DALE

The annual outing of the Lowell Fish and Game association is being held at Willow Dale this afternoon and the number present is far in excess of any previous outing held by the association. Members of the outing had wished for good weather and they surely got their wish, for it is ideal outing weather.

The trip to the scene of the outing was made in automobiles which left Thorndike street at about 12:45 o'clock and, after a short parade through the center of the city, made their way to Willow Dale where an appetizing dinner with hot roast lamb as the pièce de résistance was awaiting them.

After the dinner had been well attended to, the afternoon was well spent in order and then came the program of sports. And it was some program, too, including trap shooting, fly casting, boat racing, sack racing, and a baseball game to cap the climax. The sports were in full swing at the time of going to press. Read The Sun tomorrow for complete report of the outing.

OUMET REALIZES
AMBITION AT GOLF

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Francis Oumet who as boy and man, has accomplished nearly everything possible in golf, was happy today in the realization of the ambition of all golfers to play on the links of the Commonwealth country club, he drove off with a midiron from the third tee, with the hole 243 yards away. The lay is slightly down hill. The ball flew true, rolled to the flagstick and dropped into the cup. It was the first time he had holed out in a single stroke.

TWILIGHT GAME ON SOUTH COMMON

Pitts' South Ends and the nine representing the local post of the American Legion will line up on the South common this evening in a twilight game for the benefit of "Buck" Freeman, a well known Lowell ball player. Freeman is a member of the American Legion and the South End team. He has also played with the Glendales, the C.M.A.C., Graniteville and other teams, all of which are expected to be represented by large delegations at this evening's game.

TWO BOXERS SUSPENDED

State Boxing Commission Revokes Licenses of Two Men—Commissioner Buckley Talks.

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—The state boxing commission announced the suspension of two boxers yesterday. The license of Jesse Souza who boxed under the name of Young McFarland, was indefinitely suspended, on the ground, according to Commissioner Eugene Buckley, that Souza "acted badly" and used insulting language to a referee at a recent bout in New Bedford.

The other boxer, whose name was withheld by the commission was suspended because of poor physical condition. He is not a resident of the state.

PLOURDE IS CHAMPION

Lowell Man Wins Lightweight Wrestling Title

From Eugene Tremblay

Peter Plourde of this city is now the lightweight wrestling champion of the world, having won the title from Eugene Tremblay of Montreal, in a fast and exciting match at the Crescent rink last night.

Tremblay had held the title for more than ten years and he entered the ring confident of successfully defending the championship for some time, trained as never before for the match. He had worked for over a month to get into condition and he was "in the pink" when he climbed through the ropes last night. Tremblay also looked to be in perfect shape.

He went right down to business as soon as the bell rang, and the fans were treated to some fast and remarkably scientific wrestling. Both men displayed great speed and strength and exerted themselves from many seemingly impossible holds. After a half hour of strenuous work Tremblay finally pinned Plourde to the mat. He used a front croch hold and arm combination.

After a brief rest the pair came on for the second fall. Again bewildering speed characterized their work. Plourde determined to stave off defeat at his own risk. He was a tiger when in danger he would employ all his cunning and ability to break away. Plourde was like a flash to get into opening and at length he succeeded in applying a body scissors and arm hold that brought his opponent's shoulders to the mat. This fall came in 23 minutes.

Tremblay was injured as a result of Plourde's punishment, but after an examination by a physician, who found him suffering from a bruise, he refused to quit, but came back for the third bout. Plourde had no alternative but to try and win. It was a championship match and Tremblay had the option of surrendering the title by forfeit or taking his chances in the third fall. He chose the latter.

Plourde took three minutes to score the final fall which brought him the championship. He used a body scissors.

Plourde's friends rushed to the ring, aside to congratulate him, while many also felicitated the fallen champion for his game battle.

The semi-final bout between Jack Desrosiers of Nashua and Kid Reynolds of Billerica was won by the former in 27 minutes.

The other bout introduced Alfred Beauchene and Young Dube, and it went half an hour to a draw. The bout was a hummer.

WORLD'S RECORD
Frisco June Steps Heat in 2.03 1/2 at Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 23.—A new world's record for three-year-old pacing colts was established at the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday. Frisco June, W. W. Fleming's bay colt, stepped the heat in 2:03 1/2.

After dropping the first heat of the race to Transpaze, who had held jointly with then, Told the three-year-old colt paces record. Transpaze, however, was unable to stand the pace and lost in the stretch in the last two heats.

After finishing fifth and seventh in the first two heats, Margaret Dillon won the third heat for 2:11.11. Margaret, driven by Walter Cox, won the first heat in 2:14.4, establishing a new record for the event. The second heat was captured by John Henry, but with Valentine behind Margaret Dillon she stepped away from them in the last two.

After the third heat, entry, won the third and last heat of the 2:07 class, continued from yesterday. She had already taken yesterday's two heats.

The 2:15 trot was won in straight heats by Patrick Todd.

Darvester, owned and driven by W. W. Fleming, outclassed the field in the first division of the 2:13 pace, retaining in straight heats. Loyal W. W. driven by Erskine had an easy time in the second division winning in a similar manner.

SPORTING NOTES

The local street railwaymen's ball team has set up a splendid record on the diamond this season. The club was one of the best to ever represent the team. The locals, however, also have a victory over Fitchburg to their credit.

In defeating both local firemen's teams the locals are particularly jubilant for the second shift team was recognized as champions among the Merrimack valley firemen.

Paddy Flynn took another bad beating Tuesday night, when Eddie Shevlin gave him a boxing lesson in 10 rounds. Kibby Siegel and Shevlin have all scored recent victories over the Everett boys, but his gameness and ability to stand up under terrific fire make him a popular attraction.

Plans are underway for the formation of a local amateur polo league and it is expected that four teams will join. The arrangements call for teams to represent mercantile houses, societies and industries, similar to the Twilight baseball league. A parade will be put up by the local polo management to be divided any way satisfactory to the teams.

The bowling season is now on and already many leagues are being formed. A big tournament is to be started at the Crescent alleys in the near future.

Many local baseball fans would like to see a game between the South Ends, Glendales, or K. of C. against the Lowell team of Graniteville played in this city. The Abbotts have put up a great record on the diamond this season and a local game would undoubtedly prove a big attraction.

VICE PRESIDENT'S POSITION

To Call Vice President of United States an Official is an Outrage, Says Marshall

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Vice President Marshall's opinion of his position attracted attention here today. Introduced at a banquet as "an official," he said:

"To call the vice president of the United States an official is an outrage. Bring your son up to become a president of the United States, but don't train him for the vice presidency. Give the lad a fair chance."

The vice president spoke last night at a banquet of the supreme council of the 33d degree Scottish Rite Masons.

Water Carrier for G. O. P.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 23.—A statement declaring that ex-President Taft should be "ashamed of himself" for his statement regarding use of militia in Ohio during the Cox administration was issued yesterday by Gov. Cox, democratic nominee, during his Arizona campaign.

Commenting on Mr. Taft's recent article, which said that Gov. Cox "in disposition to maintain order by use of the militia is well known to local union leaders and explains his popularity with them," Gov. Cox made the following statement:

"It has been apparent for some time that Judge Taft's newspaper articles, which were intended to be the reflections of a mature statesman, have been turned into a cheap political propaganda. He ought to be ashamed of himself for the statement that law and order have not been maintained in Ohio. I would like to have him tell me the instances in which he would have used troops where I did not.

"I challenge him to cite the opinion of a single member of the supreme court of Ohio, no matter what his politics might be, in support of his absurd accusation. I have no objection to Judge Taft's becoming a water carrier around the Old Guard political camp. A great many people, however, in our state, who have respected him throughout, cannot but look with regret upon the ease with which reactionary politicians still make use of him."

Application of the League of Nations argument to western problems was stressed by Gov. Cox in addresses yesterday morning at Mesa and Tempe. Readjustment of European conditions as a result of the league, the governor said, would assist in opening up the European market to cotton and livestock, which the west produces.

There were two definite conspiracies in the senate, the candidate declared. One was to prevent approval of the League of Nations covenant and the other to prevent reduction of war taxation. Both were for the purpose of creating unrest and feeling against the administration, he asserted.

PROTEST CITY PAYING FOR MACSWINEY CABLE

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Demarest Lloyd and Attorney Charles H. McIntyre, acting for the loyal coalition, called on Mayor Peters yesterday afternoon to prevent payment by the city to City Clerk James Donovan of the $25.00 spent by the city council in cabling President Lloyd George relative to the MacSwiney case.

They left with the mayor, who spoke with them a few minutes, a formal statement rehearsing the coalition's objection to the council action, and urged him to get an opinion from Corporation Counsel Hill in the matter. This he will doubtless do.

Mr. Hill told newspapermen that, if the mayor declines to prevent payment, any 10 citizens may file an equity bill under chapter 26, section 109, revised laws of 1902, which step may possibly get some action along the line the coalition wants.

DECISION ON NATIONWIDE STRIKE TODAY

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Decision relative to a nation-wide strike of miners was expected when the executive committee of the Miners' Federation, the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Workers' union met here today.

The representatives of these unions—the "triple alliance" of labor—considered the reply of Premier Lloyd George to representatives of the alliance during an interview yesterday, which did not see them meet the demands of the miners for an increase in wages and a reduction in the price of coal.

Mr. Lloyd George proposed that the matter of wages be submitted to an impartial tribunal for adjudication, and that the miners work out with the owners of mines a system by which they might augment their wages by increasing production.

Statements made by union leaders have indicated they have reached a conclusion that the miners had proved they are entitled to a wage advance, and that the railwaymen and transport workers will heartily support a strike.

Local Fuel Problem

the state house in Boston of an advisory committee to the state fuel administrator appointed by Governor Coolidge yesterday. At this meeting the shortage conditions are being canvassed and it is hoped that some line of action may be settled upon that will reassure the section an adequate supply of fuel.

In the opinion of coal dealers the supply of fuel in Lowell is about 25 per cent. short of what it should be at the present time. This shortage is stove coal of which there is only a limited supply. Big coal, suitable for furnace use, is more plentiful.

Coal has recently been arriving in the city at the rate of about five carloads a day. This is equal to about 250 tons, and would be fully adequate for the city's normal needs if it were not for the fact that many dealers have a large accumulation of unfilled orders on hand. In some cases coal that is now being delivered was ordered last June. One dealer said today that a year ago at this time he had about 1000 tons of coal on hand, but that present time there is less than 300 tons in his bins.

One of the leading dealers stated today that people who buy their coal in large quantities were likely to be reasonably well supplied with fuel for the winter, but that purchasers who purchase in small lots were likely to feel the pinch before the cold weather is over.

As an offset to the pessimism of local dealers comes a statement from the National Coal association that if householders will refrain from attempting to fill their bins at the present time but will be satisfied to order only enough to tide them over until December, the situation will work out without deprivation to any one.

It is stated that there is now an abundant supply of soft coal for industrial use in Lowell, and that the outlook is promising for an adequate quantity during the winter.

See our window exhibit. You'll note that styles for Fall reflect an all 'round conservatism—nothing extreme. Waist-lines and pockets are gradually gliding down; brown is the dominant color idea.

WHETHER you're standing or sitting, there is an air of quality and grace—good appearance—that is distinctly different in Kuppenheimer good clothes.

That is why they are called an investment in good appearance: wear long—keep on fitting—keep on holding their fine, tailored shapeliness.

The styles for Fall are guided by practical requirements; developed as each feature will best serve the man who wears a Kuppenheimer suit. The prices provide extra value.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Dorothy Gish gets a lot of whole-some fun out of her role of a little grand duchess with a yard-long list of titles in "Little Miss Rebellious," the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today. Her role is new and unconventional. A host of comedy situations liven the film, including a session with a balky mule, a baseball game in which the duchess plays with American toughboys, a jazz ball and other scenes of interest. Other good things of the current program include more pictures of the R. of C. pilgrimage to the Vatican, an O. Henry story, a Metro comedy, Will Rogers' illiterate digests and a Burton Holmes travel picture.

THE STRAND

California forms the background for "Gold Coins," the stirring story by H. B. Van Loon, in which Tom Mix will be presented at The Strand, beginning with matinee today. In this production, a western town is built in its entirety in order that the story could be filmed in correct detail. The town is called Four Corners and contains everything from the village store to the town hall. The story concerns the underhanded activities of a pair of oil land crooks who try to get away with their loot, but are frustrated by the happy-go-lucky cow puncher, played by Tom Mix. As Mix plays two roles, one of which is the hero and the other the "bad man," it is safe to predict that his "daredevil" will be out of the ordinary. One of the most effective scenes is said to be that showing Mix dropping from the high flagpole when the rope is pierced by a bullet from the sheriff's revolver. Mix alights on the horse of "Bad Pat Duncan," the bandit, and Tom raps the criminal behind the ears, knocking him out, and then rides away. In the supporting cast are Margaret Loomis, Margaret Cullington, Sylvia Jocelyn, Frank Whitson and others.

The greatest picture of Sessue Hayakawa's career is the way "J. Ting Lang" is labelled by those who have seen this Japanese star in all of his screen triumphs. It is to be the other feature on the bill for the week-end. It's a powerful drama of love, revenge and intrigue, with the masterly Nipponese actor as the Chinese prince who loved an American girl and saved her life and honor when he could not win her hand. The usual comedy and weekly will also be shown.

OPERA HOUSE

If you enjoy interesting characterizations then don't miss the week's play at the Opera House that is being presented by the Lowell players. It is called "39 East" and it's one of Rachel Crother's most amusing and interesting comedy dramas. The whole three acts, practically, are given over to reflection of life and characters that are real and human. Nothing overdrawn, and little or no efforts at dramatic heights. It has a love romance that is simple but delightful, and a cast of characters that are just picked out of the life we all know. It is capably staged and the general supervision of it by Director Jack Bennett praiseworthy.

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A show that is 100 per cent. entertaining is the one which is on review during anniversary week, at the R. F. Keith theatre. "Edison," if ever, has three acts of positive headline quality been seen on the same bill in this city, yet that is the popular verdict of the current week. Homer E. Mason and Marguerite Keeler in "Oh! have first place in one of the most diverting of farces, while Lydia Barry, the delightful comedienne in songs, is another of the top liners. Miss Barry is always welcome in this city. George Kane and Tom Moran in "Listen, Mickey," are likewise topnotchers when it comes to making good fun. These men are nothing if not entertaining. John S. Blundy and brother are wonderful acrobats, and Elkins, Fay & Elkins, put over a jingling act that is very lively. Hazel Moran, the girl with the lariat, opens this big bill.

THE REALITY

With the exception of the Mary Pickford First National production, "Heart of the Hills," which will play the remainder of the week, the Reality announces a complete change of added attractions beginning today, chief among which is Charlie Chaplin in "The Adventurer." A thrilling scientific novelty is also offered, entitled "Modern Centaurs," which you do not want to miss. In addition, there is an episode of "The Hawk's Trail," with King Baggot, and a Fox news film. The straw ballot is still being taken. Don't forget to vote.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER

Discovery of Pest in Canada Causes Department of Agriculture to Send Staff of Entomologists to Michigan
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Discovery of the European corn borer in the vicinity of St. Thomas, Canada, has caused the department of agriculture to send a staff of entomologists to Michigan, to confer with local authorities to forestall possible infestation of the corn crop in that state. Experts of the bureau of entomology are concerned over the appearance of the pest in Canada. Certain sections of New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania already have been quarantined to keep the insect from making its way to the corn belt. The corn borer in Canada is farther west than heretofore reported on this continent and the corn affected is of the flint variety, which in New England and New York has appeared to be especially susceptible to injury by the borer.
